Way Is Now Open For Attack on Germany From Southeast

AMERICANS DRIVE NORTHWARD ON MEUSE FRONT AND FRENCH FORCES ADVANCE IN THE AISNE REGION

Council of Allies Continue Sessions at Versailles To-day

Paris, Nov. 4.—The conferences of the statesmen of the Allied nations and their military and naval advisers were continued to-day.

AUSTRIANS TO DEMOBILIZE THEIR ARMY AND EVACUATE ALL AREAS OCCUPIED BEYOND THEIR BORDERS

Pershing's Men Are Pounding Their Way Toward Sedan; Attack Extends to East Bank of Meuse; French Forces Attacked Again This Morning

Washington, Nov. 4.—The American First Army, continuing its advance northwest of Verdun, extended the attack to-day to the east bank of the Meuse. General Pershing reported that all towns on the west bank of the river south of Salles had been captured.

With the American Army on the Sedan Front, Nov. 4, 9.25 a.m.—American troops pushing northward toward Sedan early last night had reached Sommauthe, five miles north of Buzay and thirteen miles south of Sedan.

With the French Army in France, Nov. 4, 2.40 p.m.—French troops attacked successfully again this morning on both wings of their battlefield. They moved northward in conjunction with the Americans to Le Chêne, Les Petites Armoises and Verrières, north of the Argonne. On their left they are passing eastward in the region of Guise.

Paris, Nov. 4.—The Germans maintained activity with their artillery and machine guns throughout last night on the entire fifteen-mile front along the Aisne, between Rethel and Semuy, according to to-day's War Office report. The French First Army during the month of October in the fighting on the Oise front took 10,800 prisoners, 113 cannon and 1,500 machine guns, the statement announces.

HAIG'S TROOPS STRIKE ON VALENCIENNES-OISE FRONT AND FORCE WAY FORWARD

London, Nov. 4.—British troops, in their new attack to-day, unofficial reports say, have reached the line of the Aunelle River, near the Franco-Belgian border, five miles east of Valenciennes. Farther south Field-Marshal Haig's men have forced crossings of the Oise-Sambre Canal.

The British attack to-day was made by the Third and Fourth Armies on the front from Valenciennes southward to the Oise, about thirty miles.

London, Nov. 4.—At dawn this morning British troops south of the Scheidt River attacked on a wide front, according to a report received from Field-Marshal Haig to-day. The report says that the attack was launched satisfactorily.

The text of the statement reads: "At dawn this morning we attacked on a wide front south of the Scheidt. The attack is reported to have been launched satisfactorily."

Forced to Withdraw.

Field-Marshal Haig reported last night: "Following the severe defeat inflicted upon his forces on the Valenciennes front in the last two days, the enemy has to-day withdrawn from his positions to the east and southeast of Valenciennes. The movement was at once observed and we pressed the enemy closely during the day, maintaining constant touch with the German rearwards and taking a number of prisoners."

Steel Works Taken.

Field-Marshal Haig reported yesterday afternoon: "Yesterday evening the steel works southeast of Valenciennes, which the enemy had defended during the day with much determination, were taken by our troops. Our line was advanced a distance of one and one-half miles east of the town and the cap-

"GREATER VICTORIA" KEEPS UP SPEED IN THE RACE FOR HER $5,000,000 OBJECTIVE

With many of the banks yet to be heard from, it was announced at the headquarters of the Victory Loan at one o'clock to-day that on Saturday, the sixth day of the Drive, "Greater Victoria" invested $219,600 in bonds. A conservative estimate of the actual subscription on Saturday, however, as given by Chairman R. F. Taylor, is $250,000. Thus the city sustained the pace required to land it on the other side of its quota at the end of the campaign, in spite of the fact that Saturday was to a large number of business premises a half-holiday. With the subscriptions of the municipalities and the Provincial Government, this brings Victoria's total for the first week up to well over two and one-half millions, half the quota for the city.

The figures for Saturday as compared to the corresponding day last year are as follows:

1918	1917
5th Day—Saturday, November 2—	5th Day—Saturday, November 17—
Canvassers ..... $116,100	Canvassers ..... $153,875
Banks ..... 103,500	Banks ..... 59,395
Grand Total to date... $219,600	Grand Total to date... 213,270
Applications on Saturday... 629
Total Applications to Date, 4143	Grand Total to date... $1,184,770

The 1918 figures are exclusive of the Provincial Government and municipal subscriptions, which total $271,300.

Finish Off Canvassers.

The order to the various teams of canvassers, now that the whole city has been gone over once, are "stick at it until you sell the bonds." The last dollars of many of the larger industrial plants are being minutely sought out by picked teams to-day, and the residential districts are now canvassed the last time.

The big Yarrow's plant at Esquimalt is being canvassed to-day by a team under the leadership of J. C. Wilson, who intends, with his fellow salesmen, to remain at the scene of activities until every possible dollar has been collected. The workmen, it is reported, are rallying in splendid fashion to the call for silver bullets, for they appreciate the fact that their good wages were secured by means of the last loan and will be renewed by the success of the present issue.

James Island.

James Island is being worked over by J. W. Hudson, J. Hanby and Sergeant-Major McIntosh, who have also been instructed to "stay on the job until it's done." The island is giving a generous response to the loan.

The Gulf Islands as far north as Valdez Island, are being visited by John Mowat, J. S. Murray, George Brown and Capt. Newcomb, who left for the district this morning in a Government launch supplied by Capt. Robertson, Agent of Marine. As they left the headquarters here Kenneth Ferguson gave them this parting admonition: "Stay right there if it takes you till Christmas, and don't come home without the bacon." The canvassers, however, figure that a week will suffice. (Concluded on page 4.)

Sir F. E. Smith Says Allies Should Try Teuton Criminals

London, Nov. 4.—Establishment of a grand court of Allied representatives, civil and military, for the purpose of trying those guilty of crimes during the war, is advocated by Sir Frederick E. Smith, the British Attorney-General, in an interview in The Daily Express.

NEARLY 370,000 CAPTURED ON WEST FRONT BY ALLIES SINCE THE MIDDLE OF JULY

Paris, Nov. 4.—(Havas Agency).—Since the great Allied offensive began on the Western Front on July 15 last, the Allied armies have captured 362,355 prisoners, including 7,990 officers, as well as 6,217 cannon, 38,622 machine guns and 3,907 mine-throwers. The Allied forces during the month of October captured 108,343 prisoners, including 2,472 officers, as well as 2,064 cannon, 13,639 machine guns and 1,193 mine-throwers.

WILHELM TRYING TO HOLD THRONE

Issues Manifesto, but Socialists, Dissatisfied, Say He Must Abdicate

VORWAERTS DECLARES KAISER WILHELM MUST DISAPPEAR

London, Nov. 4.—The German Socialists are not satisfied with the Kaiser's proclamation issued on Sunday, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen. The Berlin Socialist organ Vorwaerts says: "The manifesto will not in any way change the standpoint of the Socialists nor weaken the demand for abdication."

Amsterdam, Nov. 4.—On the occasion of the constitutional amendment coming into force, says an official telegram from Berlin, Kaiser Wilhelm addressed to Prince Maximilian of Baden, the German Imperial Chancellor, a decree endorsing the decision of the Reichstag and avowing his firm determination to co-operate in their full development. The Kaiser's decree reads:

"Your Grand Ducal Highness: I return herewith for immediate publication the bill to amend the Imperial constitution and the law of March 17, 1879, relative to the representation of the Imperial Chancellor, which has been laid before me for signature."

His Feelings.

"On the occasion of this step, which is so momentous for the future of the Empire."

CHARLES GIVING UP HAPSBURG THRONE

Will Abdicate; Report Says He Will Live in Switzerland

Basel, Nov. 4.—Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary is determined to abdicate and will retire to Switzerland, German newspapers say.

The Emperor made this announcement, it is added, during a conference on Saturday with the new Austrian Government and other influential leaders in the Dual Monarchy.

London, Nov. 4.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Copenhagen quotes The Berliner Tageblatt's Vienna correspondent as saying that Emperor Charles had an important conference with members of the Cabinet and political leaders Saturday, when he announced his intention to abdicate and go to Switzerland. The Tageblatt says no official confirmation of this report has been received in Berlin.

Hostilities Ceased To-day at 6 a.m.; Victoria Time; Part of Austrian Fleet Is to Be Surrendered and Part Disarmed; Half Artillery and Army Equipment to Be Surrendered; Allies Have Right to Pass Through Austria to Attack Germany

Washington, Nov. 4.—The terms of the armistice under which the land and sea forces of what was once the Austro-Hungarian Empire have laid down their arms, were announced to-day simultaneously in Washington and the other Allied capitals. They accomplish complete surrender and open Austrian and Hungarian territory for Allied operations against Germany.

From this drastic document may be gleaned an accurate outline of the conditions nearing completion at the sessions of the Supreme War Council of the Allies at Versailles under which Germany may have a cessation of hostilities.

The terms under which the debacle on the Italian front ended to-day at 3 p.m. (6 a.m. Victoria time) include complete demobilization of the Austrian forces, the surrender of one-half of all artillery and military equipment; the occupation by Allied forces of such strategic places as may later be selected; the use of Austrian railroads for operations against Germany; evacuation of all invaded territory; leaving behind all equipment and supplies including coal; surrender of a portion of the Austrian surface and submarine fleets and disarmament of others under Allied control; surrender of all German submarines in Austrian waters and repatriation of Allied prisoners without reciprocity.

The evacuation of Austrian territory roughly correspond to the belligerency lines claimed by Italy under the Italia Irridenta of the Treaty of London programme. The right of occupation by Allied forces is reserved, local authorities to maintain order under Allied supervision.

The terms of the armistice are to be carried out under the direction of Marshal Foch, who will designate the material to be turned over and supervise the movement of the Austro-Hungarian forces to the rear.

All German troops in Austro-Hungary, Italy or the Balkans must be out or interned within fifteen days.

No Destruction.

Destruction of property by the retreating forces is specifically forbidden. The ships to be surrendered include fifteen modern Austrian submarines, three battleships, three light cruisers, nine destroyers, twelve torpedo boats, one mine-layer and six Danube monitors to be designated by the Allies. All other warcraft are to be concentrated and disarmed under Allied direction.

Free navigation of all Austrian waters by both the war and commercial fleets of the Allies is provided for.

The Danube route is to be kept open by the occupation or dismantling of fortresses to be selected by the Allied Commander-in-Chief.

Blockade.

The existing blockade of the Allies against Austria remains unchanged. Austrian ships being liable to capture where found except where a commission, to be named later, provides otherwise.

All enemy naval aircraft are to be put out of commission and concentrated under Allied control. All Austrian harbor and other equipment in occupied Italian ports is to be left untouched.

All fortresses protecting Austrian naval bases or stations are to be occupied and the arsenal at Pola is specifically surrendered.

All Allied craft held by Austria are to be returned immediately.

The only organized military force Austria is permitted to retain is limited to that necessary to maintain order within her own borders.

Announced at Washington.

The terms of the Austrian armistice, with parenthetical explanations of minor errors in cable transmission, were announced by the State Department to-day as follows:

"Following are the terms of the armistice imposed upon Austria, which will go into effect at 2 o'clock today:

"Military clauses:

"One—The immediate cessation of hostilities by land, sea and air.

"Two—Total demobilization of the Austro-Hungarian army and immediate withdrawal of all Austro-Hungarian forces operating on the front from the North Sea to Switzerland, within Austro-Hungarian territory, limited as in Clause Three below, there shall only be maintained as an organized military force a (1) reduced to pre-war effectiveness (effectiveness).

"Half the divisional, corps and army artillery and equipment shall be collected at points to be indicated by the Allies and United States of America for delivery to them, beginning with all such material as exists in the territories to be evacuated by the Austro-Hungarian forces.

Evacuation.

"Three—Evacuation of all territories invaded by Austria-Hungary since the beginning of the war. Withdrawal within such periods as shall be determined by the Commander-in-Chief of the Allied forces.

Administration.

"Six—The administration of the evacuated territories of Austria-Hungary will be entrusted to the local authorities under the control of the Allied forces on each front of the Austro-Hungarian armies behind a line fixed as follows:

"From the Adriatic to the north of Stelvio it will follow the crest of the Rhetian Alps up to the sources of the Adige and the Eisach, passing thence by Mount Reschen and Brenner and the heights of Oetz and Zoalzer. The line then turns south, crossing Monte Toblach and meeting the present frontier Carnic Alps. It follows this frontier up to Mount Tarvis, and after Mount Tarvis the watershed of the Julian Alps by the Col of Predil, Mount Mangart, the Tricorno (Tergole) and the watershed of the Col di Foderbo, Podlanscam and Idria. From this point the line turns southeast towards the Schneeberg, excluding the whole basin of the Save and its tributaries. From Schenberg it goes down towards the coast in such a way as to include Castau, Mattuglia and Volosca in the evacuated territories.

"It will also follow the administrative limits of the present province of Dalmatia, including the North Lissarica and Triviana and the territory limited by a line from the (Seminigrad) of Cape Planka, to the summit of the watershed eastwards so as to include in the evacuated area all the valleys and watercourses flowing towards Sebenico, such as the Cicola, Kerka, Butisnica and their tributaries. It will also include all the islands in the north and west of Dalmatia from Premuda, Selve, Ulbo, Scherda, Maon, Paga and Puntadiga in the north up to Meleda in the south, embracing Sant Andrea, Bua, Lisa, Lesina, Tergole, Zadar, Cres and Lagosta, as well as the neighboring rocks and islets and passages, only excepting the islands of Great and Small Zirona, Bua, Solta and Brazza. All the territory thus evacuated (shall be occupied by the forces?) of the Allies.

Equipment.

"All military and railway equipment of all kinds, including coal belonging to or within those territories (to be?) left as situated and surrendered to the Allies, according to special orders given by the Commander-in-Chief of the forces of the Associated powers on the different fronts. No new destruction, pillage or requisition to be done by enemy troops in the territories to be evacuated by them and occupied by the forces of the associated powers.

To Surrender Ships.

"Three—Surrender to the Allies with their complete armament and equipment of three battleships, three light cruisers, nine destroyers, twelve torpedo boats, one mine layer, and six Danube monitors to be designated by the Allies. All other surface-warships, including river craft, are to be concentrated under the supervision of the Allies.

Free Navigation.

"Notification to be made to neutrals that freedom of navigation in all territorial waters is given to the naval and mercantile marine of the Allied and associated powers. All questions of neutrality being waived.

"Two—Surrender to the Allies of fifteen Austro-Hungarian submarines completed between the years 1910 and 1915, and of all German submarines which are in or may hereafter enter Austro-Hungarian territorial waters.

"All other Austrian submarines to be completely disarmed and to remain under the supervision of the Allies.

Free Navigation.

"Notification to be made to neutrals that freedom of navigation in all territorial waters is given to the naval and mercantile marine of the Allied and associated powers. All questions of neutrality being waived.

ENTIRE REGIMENTS GAVE THEMSELVES UP

Italian Forces Took Great Bag of Prisoners in Capturing Trent

With the Italian Forces in Northern Italy, Nov. 3.—Via London, Nov. 4.—The Italian First Army in its advance on Trent, which has been occupied, captured enormous quantities of material and innumerable prisoners. Entire enemy regiments are surrendering.

London, Nov. 4.—An official report on the operations in the Italian theatre, issued here last night, said:

"The Tenth Army (which includes British contingents) on Sunday reached the line of Villotia, Pratsirone, the Meduna River east of Fordenone, St. Quirino and Aviano. It has continued its advance. The number of prisoners captured by this army is now over 18,000. Of these more than 1,000 have been taken by the 14th Corps' mounted troops.

"The Royal Air Force has pursued its operations against the retreating columns.

"The 18th Division, operating on the Asiago Plateau, has captured 470 prisoners and thirteen guns.

"An official report issued earlier in the day said:

"The bridging of the Livenza River is being rapidly carried out. Our troops are well east of that river."

"The number of prisoners taken by the Tenth Army can not at present be accurately given, but it is known to be considerably more than 15,000, with 100 guns. Of these, more than 10,000 prisoners and more than 100 guns have been captured by the Fourteenth British Corps.

"The booty taken at Sacile includes, among a vast amount of other material, an ordnance workshop complete and a pontoon park.

"In its operations on the Asiago plateau the Fourth British Division took nearly 200 prisoners.

"The air forces continued throughout the day to bomb the dense masses of retreating Austrians with visible good results."

Italian Report.
Rome, Nov. 4.—The following official report was issued here last evening:

"We have broken through the enemy's fortifications at Celadell. The Tonale Pass has been forced and the Val Arsa taken from Col Santa to the north of Pasubio. Our advance is continuing irresistibly on the Tonzera, the Asiago plateau in the Sogana Valley, the valleys of Cismon and the Coriole and along the Piave and on the Piave."

"On the Tagliamento cavalry, supported by mounted batteries, Bersaglieri and cyclists, is winning bitter combats against the enemy, who, surprised on this side of the river, is fighting with great stubbornness. The Second Brigade, with the regiments from Genoa and our airmen and allied airmen have brilliantly maintained exceptional activity."

"The total of prisoners has reached 190,000 and the guns captured more than 2,500."

Whole Front.
With the Italian Army in Northern Italy, Nov. 3.—Via London, Nov. 4.—19 h. m.—The entire Italian front is moving forward. The left wing of the Italian army has occupied Rovereto.

King Victor Emmanuel is visiting the liberated towns. He is being cheered enthusiastically by the inhabitants. Old men and women and children surround him and relate the tortures they endured during the Austro-Hungarian invasion.

FINE GENERALSHIP WON VALENCIENNES

Feat of Canadians in Taking
City Was a Splendid
One

With the Allied Armies in France and Belgium, Nov. 3.—Via London, Nov. 4.—Valenciennes was captured by Canadian forces yesterday morning, releasing thousands of residents who had been in the city for four years.

The final link in the encircling chain of troops thrown around the city was forged at 7.50 o'clock when converging infantry invested the place and began a further advance on the enemy territory. Marly was occupied at an early hour and patrols pushed up the road leading to St. Saulve.

Virtually all the German troops had withdrawn from the bottled-up metropolis of Valenciennes during the night, but machine gunners who had been left behind to give battle until they were killed still were sniping from houses and street fighting followed the entry of the British forces. The Germans yesterday threw explosives and gas into the defenceless city, which the British had so carefully avoided bombarding, because of the danger of injury to civilians.

Despite this danger, the streets were filled with people cheering with joy at their release and acclaiming their deliverance.

Across River.
Further to the north in Audenarde sector, French, British and American troops had met with equal success in their drive toward the Scheldt River. Along the whole of the front below Eecker which is situated on the Scheldt about eight miles south of Ghent, the Germans were forced back across the river.

American troops captured the western outskirts of the city of Audenarde, which straddles the Scheldt. The American unit added an advance of about five and one-half miles to what it had achieved the day before.

When the Americans, after their brilliant drive, came up against Audenarde, they found that the Germans had blown up all the bridges, but one across a small branch of the Scheldt, which encircles the western side of the city. This remaining bridge was mined and due to go up at any minute. A Frenchman, who lived nearby, had carefully observed the laying of the explosives and knew where the Germans had concealed the electric wires leading to them. As the Frenchman saw the Americans approaching, he took his life in his hands, faced to the bridge and cut the wires. He then waved the Americans to advance and they surged across the bridge with a mighty cheer.

Fine Feat.
The capture of Valenciennes was a fine piece of generalship. In their drive the Canadian troops crossed the Rhonelle and established their lines east and west below the city, then turned sharply southward. Above the city's northern limits the whole country had been flooded, so there was no possibility of attacking across it.

Thus the Germans were cut off by water to the north and by the Canadians to the west and south.

The eastern exit from the city was the only one left open. One other possible means of escape was by smashing off the point of the Canadian salient south of the city.

Then the Germans rushed out, by the eastern gates of the city, taking all possible materials and leaving snipers and machine gunners who proceeded to give their lives to protect the rear of the main German lines. The German transports and troops, packed to the northeast, along the highway leading to Mons. Meanwhile British guns were working destruction on the retreating ranks of the foe. German machine gunners were widely hidden about the city.

NOW FEAR ATTACK THROUGH AUSTRIA

Germans, Thinking Allies May Attack, Digging Trenches
on Bavarian Frontier

Copenhagen, Nov. 3.—Via London, Nov. 4.—The Austro-Hungarian troops are being withdrawn from the Western front and the Germans, fearing the Allies will march through Austria, are digging trenches and erecting fortifications along the Bavarian frontier, according to a Vienna dispatch to The Politiken.

German Statements.
Berlin, Nov. 3.—Via London, Nov. 4.—A War Office communication issued here this (Sunday) evening says:

"Forefield engagements took place before our lines between the Aisne and the Meuse."

A statement issued earlier in the day said:

"Flanders we have withdrawn our troops who were on the Lys at the junction of our front with the Scheldt, on Ghent. There was no fighting contact with the enemy there yesterday."

"Near the south of Valenciennes the British continued their violent attacks. They pressed us back to Saultain during the morning and again established themselves in Preseau. Villers-Pol was held against repeated attacks. Attacks east of Valenciennes, which were renewed in the afternoon, failed. West of Landreies we repulsed partial attacks. West of Guise a partial attack failed."

"The French did not continue their attack yesterday. They restricted themselves to partial attacks east of Banogne and near Tervere, which were repulsed."

"A break into our front by American troops west of the Meuse caused us to withdraw our front between the Aisne and Champagneville."

"On the line of Quatre-Champs and Buzancy, forefield engagements developed. Yesterday we gained some ground near Tilly and beyond Villers-devant-Dun."

DUNCAN YOUTH IS ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Son of Mayor Miller Seriously Injured While Hunting
on Friday

Duncan, Nov. 4.—Eddie Miller, elder son of Mayor E. F. Miller, of Duncan, had a miraculous escape from death on Friday afternoon when he was accidentally shot while out hunting. With a companion he was out shooting in the neighborhood of "The Cliffs," Miss Wilson's School, when he tripped over a log and the .22 rifle he was carrying dropped from his hand and went off. The shot passed right through his body, grazing the upper lobe of one of his lungs.

His companion realizing that he was powerless to help the injured boy, promptly ran for assistance. Quickly returning towards the scene of the accident, the men who had been summoned found that the injured boy had pluckily attempted to reach his home, and had progressed several hundred yards towards town, despite the seriousness of his injuries. He was quickly conveyed to the hospital, where it was found that he was bleeding internally. For a time his life was despaired of, but he put up a stiff fight for life, and this morning is pronounced out of danger. The boy is one of the most popular students of the High School, and the news of his accident caused widespread concern throughout the community.

Mr. Charlton has sold the greenhouses owned by him at Somers to Mr. Allen, foreman of the nurseries at Cobble Hill.

Duncan has been fortunate in escaping the ravages of Spanish influenza, which have characterized the epidemic in other places, and the only cases known are very mild. The comparative lightness of the outbreak is due to the scrupulous observance by the public of the regulations imposed

DOWN AND OUT.

With the signing of the armistice yesterday on terms imposed by the Allies through General Diaz, what was once Austria-Hungary is now definitely out of the war. This development was not unexpected. The enemy's home front had collapsed and his military front was in ruins. He had lost more than 100,000 men in prisoners and 2,200 guns and his army was rapidly degenerating into a demoralized mob. His chief source of munition supply, the Skoda works, had been confiscated by the Bohemian Government. His navy had been destroyed or taken by the Jugo-Slavs, while the Italian flag was about to be hoisted over Trieste. The triumphant Serbs had occupied Belgrade and were about to spring across the Danube into Austro-Hungarian territory. The "ramshackle empire" everywhere was a total wreck, the inevitable end of the mad course upon which it was started by Prussian-Magyar pressure in July, 1914.

The terms of the armistice are made public today. They are what the occasion fully demands. They include the complete demobilization of the Austro-Hungarian military forces and the opening of a way of attack upon Germany through Austrian territory. This will involve the occupation by the Allies of Austria's strategic railways and a number of strategic points, including Innsbruck, in the Tyrol, and with this in contemplation the reported fortification of the southern Bavarian frontier by the German can be easily understood.

Innsbruck, which is just south of the Bavarian border, was the chief link in the communication between the Italian front and the Rhine. It is there that German troops, passing eastward from Cologne, Metz and the West Front north of the Swiss border, were diverted southward to the Trentino. Whenever we read that the German-Swiss frontier was closed by Germany it meant that troops were being rushed from the Rhine to the Austrian mountain front. The Austrian troops with the German forces in Lorraine, which now have been demobilized, will pass through Innsbruck on their way home.

Germany is now very much in the same position that Austria-Hungary was after Bulgaria had withdrawn from the war. That is to say, the collapse of her ally has presented her with a southern front to defend. It exposes to invasion Bavaria and Saxony—Bavaria through Tyrol, and Saxony through Bohemia—just as the defection of Bulgaria exposed Hungary to invasion. Hungary, however, averted the menace by cutting loose from Vienna and proclaiming her independence. Will Bavaria and Saxony seek a similar way out of a similar predicament? They are, in fact, worse off than Hungary was, because the Allies in Serbia still had to drive the Austrians to the Danube, and it is some weeks since Bulgaria withdrew. But the Allies can occupy Innsbruck and the great lateral Austro-German strategic railroad in a very short time since they will have no resistance to meet from Austria. Indeed, their advance troops can reach Innsbruck by way of Trent in a few days.

We shall be very much surprised if Bavaria and Saxony risk invasion for the sake of Prussia and the Hohenzollerns. The mere threat to Munich, Dresden and Leipzig from the Allies' air service alone is likely to cause a convulsion. But if the south German states decided to defend their frontiers they would demand the immediate withdrawal of Bavarian and Saxonian troops from the French and Belgian front. That would be a serious weakening of the forces confronting the Allies, now unable to maintain their positions with all their resources, and it would bring the hour of the invasion of Prussia very much nearer. To try to defend Saxony and Bavaria the Great General Staff, therefore, would have to attempt a withdrawal of the German West Front behind the Rhine, an operation which could not be effected without enormous loss—if it could be effected at all, which is very doubtful—while it would bring the final stage of the war to German soil. The prospect is hopeless whichever way it is looked at, and we doubt if the German home front will look at it very long before it blows up. What Bavaria and Saxony will do during the next few days, not to say what Germany as a whole will do—after learning the terms of the latest armistice, will be of unusual interest.

THE SECOND WEEK.

Although the grand total of subscriptions for the Victory Loan in Greater Victoria for the first week of the campaign exceeded half the allotment for this district, it should be borne in mind that $914,000 of it consisted of the investments of the Provincial Government and municipalities. If this very substantial proportion were deducted the total would shrink to about a third of the amount of the loan allotted to the district. The Chairman of the Greater Victoria Victory Loan Committee says the Provincial Government subscription will be credited to the total for the district. If this is the case Greater Victoria should make a strong effort to oversubscribe its allotment by that amount. We should subscribe our $5,000,000 independent of the Government contribution so that there will be no ground for dispute. To do this we shall have to raise $3,000,000 during the remaining twelve days of the campaign. And we shall not be able to depend upon fat contributions from the Government or municipalities. The first week has been comparatively easy going and the hard part of the climb now begins. Let us try to make it $3,000,000 this week which will leave a substantial margin to the good for the third and last round.

TOWARDS SEDAN.

The countries over-run by the Bulgarian and Austro-Hungarian armies became, in turn, their death-traps. The forces of Czar Ferdinand were ruined by the Serbian thrust across the Sokol ridge in Macedonia; the Hapsburg legions were destroyed in Venetia. Turkey was brought to her knees by the overthrow of her armies in districts stolen and throttled by her, as well as by the threat of more disasters to come from the defection of Bulgaria. Will Germany's army meet a similar fate in France and Belgium? Will there be a second and greater Sedan?

This question has been projected into the foreground of speculation by the victories of the Franco-American armies in the Champagne and the Argonne during the last few days. The advances made by our Allies in that critical region have now reached a stage which promises the most far-reaching military possibilities and which, if continued, may cut the German West Front in two as the Austrian army was cut in two by the capture of Belgrade a few days ago and the Bulgarians were split up by the Serbs in Macedonia.

Advancing on a thirty-mile front from the east of Rheims to the Meuse, northwest of Verdun, the armies of General Gouraud and Liggett are now thirteen miles from Montmedy and Sedan. These two points are on the great lateral railroad which, running along the Franco-Belgian border, enables the Germans opposing the British and French at Valenciennes and north of Laon and Rheims to maintain contact with their armies in Lorraine. It is the enemy's most direct line between Lille and Metz. Over this road troop diversions have been made from sector to sector, from east to west and vice versa. Without it the Germans would have to use the roundabout route along the Rhine and through Belgium; there is no other continuous route through French and Belgian territory, for, not far from Sedan, intervenes the great Ardennes forest extending into southern Belgium. Hence, if the Allies reach those places the German front will be cut clean in two, two-thirds of the hostile armies from Sedan all the way to Belgium being isolated from the other third extending from the Meuse through Lorraine and Alsace.

But that is not all. The two-thirds, now confronting French, British and Belgian forces would have but one remaining avenue of escape into Germany—the bottle-neck across the Belgian frontier near Liege between Luxembourg and Holland. That is their only route of retirement as armies; if they tried to retire in any other way it would be as a demoralized mob without equipment and supplies, just as the Austrians sought flight after they were cut in two—every man for himself. The country is not like the surface of a map; Nature has to be considered. The German forces extending from Sedan through the Woivre and Lorraine, would be in a better position for a large part, in retirement, for they could withdraw into Luxembourg and to Metz provided the Americans did not reach those gaps ahead of them.

Sedan in the Allies' hands would threaten the rear of any line the Germans may try to fall back upon in Belgium and France, and if they cannot stop the Americans advancing down the Meuse from reaching Sedan before the forces opposing the British, French and Belgians farther west can fall back upon the Antwerp-Brussels-Namur line, the whole front will suffer a debacle as complete as that which has overtaken Austria-Hungary. So far there has been no let-up in the progress of Gouraud's and Liggett's armies, notwithstanding the frantic efforts the enemy has made to stop them, and the notorious difficulty of the ground—ground which, with its forests, hills and ravines, is as readily adaptable to defence as the district surrounding Verdun.

There have been not a few observers, including prominent military experts, who have contended that a military decision on the West Front was improbable, if not impossible. This contention went by the board after Foch began his counter-offensive and, particularly, after Haig's army broke the Hindenburg Line. A decision was gained at that time. Within a few days the Franco-American offensive may create such a condition as to make the complete overthrow of Germany's forces in the field an immediate certainty. That is evidently what Foch is aiming at and it explains the powerful blows of the British, French and Belgian armies farther west, compelling the enemy to maintain himself in strength in front of them while the Franco-Americans smash towards his rear.

Since July 15 the Allies on the West Front have captured 362,555 Germans including 7,990 officers, 6,217 guns, 38,622 machine guns and 3,909 mine-throwers. No wonder large quantities of baggage monogrammed "H." are en route to Switzerland.

concentrated at Austro-Hungarian naval bases to be designated by the Allies, and are to be paid off and completely disarmed and placed under the supervision of the Allies.

"Four—Freedom of navigation to all warships and merchant ships of the Allied Powers to be given in the Adriatic and up the river Danube and its tributaries in the territorial waters and territory of Austria-Hungary.

"The Allies shall have the right to sweep up all mine-fields and obstructions, and the positions of these are to be indicated.

"In order to insure the freedom of navigation on the Danube, the Allies shall be empowered to occupy or to dismantle all fortifications or defence works.

"The existing blockade conditions set up by the Allied Powers are to remain unchanged and all Austro-Hungarian merchant ships found at sea are to remain liable to capture save exceptions which may be made by a commission nominated by the Allies.

"Six—All naval aircraft are to be concentrated and impounded in Austro-Hungarian bases to be designated by the Allies.

"Seven—Evacuation of all the Italian coasts and of all ports occupied by Austria-Hungary outside her national territory and the abandonment of all floating craft, naval materials, equipment and materials for inland navigation of all kinds.

"Eight—Occupation by the Allies of the land and sea fortifications and the islands which form the defence and of the dockyard and arsenal at Pola.

"Nine—All merchant vessels held by Austria-Hungary belonging to the Allies to be returned.

"Ten—No destruction of ships or materials to be permitted before evacuation, surrender or return.

"Eleven—All naval and mercantile marine prisoners of the Allied Powers in the Austro-Hungarian hands to be returned without reciprocity."

German people, I have a desire to give expression to my feelings. Prepared for by a series of Government acts, a new order comes into force which transfers the fundamental rights of the Kaiser's person to the people. Thus comes to a close a period which will stand in honor before the eyes of future generations. Despite all struggles between invested authority and aspiring forces, it rendered possible to our people that tremendous development which has imperishably revealed itself in the wonderful achievements of this war.

"In the storms of the four years of war, however, old forms have been broken up, not to leave their ruins behind, but to make a place for new vital forms. After the achievements of these times the German people can claim that no right that may guarantee a free and happy future shall be held from them.

"His 'Co-operation.'"

"The proposals of the Allied Governments, which are now adopted and extended, owe their origin to this conviction. I, however, with my exalted allies, endorse these decisions of Parliament in firm determination, so far as I am concerned, to co-operate in their full development, convinced that I am promoting the weal of the German people."

"The Kaiser's office is one of service to the people. May the new order realize the good powers which our people need in order to support the trials which are hanging over the empire, and with a firm determination step within a bright future from the gloom of the present."

"Berlin, October 28, 1918.
(Signed) WILHELM, I. ET. R.
(Countersigned) Maximilian, Prince of Baden."

Must Quit.

Zurich, Nov. 3.—(Via London, Nov. 4.) The German propaganda service cites The Vorwaerts, the Berlin Socialist organ, as confirming the report that Philipp Scheidemann, Socialist leader in the Reichstag and member without portfolio of the German Cabinet, had addressed to Prince Maximilian of Baden, the Imperial Chancellor, a memorandum on the necessity of retirement of Kaiser Wilhelm. The step, it was taken, it was added after an agreement had been reached by the presidents of the Reichstag parties.

Surprise Attack.

The following official report was issued yesterday afternoon:

"Between the Oise and the Serre a surprise attack against the German positions to the north of Pargny-le-Bois enabled us to take prisoners."

"On the Aisne front French infantry in the course of the night made further progress, capturing the villages of La Croix-aux-Bois and Givry."

"The German resistance, particularly in the Argonne-Forêt region, has increased to a certain degree."

"To the war material abandoned yesterday by the Germans during their withdrawal, and which fell into our hands, should be added fourteen guns, including five heavy cannon. The number of prisoners the French have taken, since the beginning of these operations exceeds 2,000."

Pushed Line Forward.

With the American Army Northwest of Verdun, Nov. 3.—(Via London, Nov. 4.)—The American troops at 5 o'clock this afternoon have advanced their left flank north of Aubry, in close co-operation with the French forces which had been fighting their way eastward in the bend of the Aisne River. Farther east, American forces were in Austruche and their patrols were reported as far north as Brioules-sur-Bar.

In the centre of the line the village of Fosse was passed early in the day, and then in quick succession Harcourt, Nouart, Le Champ-Haute and Le Champ-Bas were occupied by the Americans.

troops has reached, the little lake in the centre of Belval Wood.

On the extreme right the Americans advanced north of Montigny-Devant-Sassy. From there the line ran to the Meuse River.

Took Over 4,000.

With the American Army Northwest of Verdun, Nov. 4.—(Via London, Nov. 4.)—More than 4,000 prisoners were captured by the American troops in this sector to-day. The number of guns and the quantity of other booty are steadily growing and the right flank of the Americans is now at Hallet, on the heights overlooking the Meuse River.

It has not been a day of fighting as much of pursuit. The Germans are not retreating in great disorder, and their withdrawal can not be called a rout, but it is certain that the General Staff and the field officers have lost control to a certain extent.

Boult-aux-Bois.

All parts of the line were active during the night. The left wing continued its advance with little interruption, even after darkness had fallen. American troops reached Boult-aux-Bois at 4 o'clock this morning. Their patrols were at the heels of the retreating Germans, who were heard leaving the northern end of the town by wagon, and who had made their escape by the time the Americans had made their way through the town in the gloom.

There was some opposition, especially artillery fire and rear-guard fighting at Harcourt and Nouart, but it was quickly swept away. After cleaning up Boult last night, the Americans took Hill 258, and a little later occupied Les Fontaines Farm.

Belgian Report.

London, Nov. 4.—A Belgian official report issued here last evening said: "The enemy has abandoned the Derivation Canal, which we have crossed. We have occupied Ecluse and Waerschot."

"Between the Brussels-Ghent Canal and the Lys River we have advanced between Meerend, past Poucke and Baerle."

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, November 4, 1893.

Eighteen years ago to-day the mail steamship Pacific was wrecked off the coast of Washington, several hours after leaving Victoria, and with the exception of two, all the passengers were drowned.

Collector Milne will forward the British Government this evening a complete statement of the sealing industry this year in the whole north Pacific ocean, with the catch of the whole Pacific coast, as well as that of the Japanese and Russian coasts and the rookeries on either side. The statement is clear and concise, and represents several weeks of hard and painstaking work.

Superintendent of the Provincial Police Hussey has telegraphed to Nanaimo for information regarding the Savary Island murder.

progress made so far and formulate plans for the last lap of the Victory race at a meeting to be held on Wednesday. It is expected that the last week of the drive will see the whole city visited once more with whirlwind speed, so that not an idle cent may be left which could swell Victoria's subscription to ultimate victory.

The officials are now planning a competition between the different bond-selling teams in order that a spirit of friendly rivalry may spur the canvassers on to fresh conquests.

Give Easy Terms.

A large number of citizens are taking advantage of the offer of all Canadian banks to finance investments in the Victory Loan, and to take payments over a period of ten months.

The idea is to enable persons who are unable to meet the Government terms of payment, to put their money into bonds, as they receive it. Under the ordinary plan, payments must be completed by March, but the banks are now enabling buyers to $5 a month on $50 bonds. This arrangement will be put into practice on bonds of the denominations of $50, $100 and $500, with the payments in the same proportion.

Cassidy's Honor Flag.

The honor flag won by the miners of Cassidy was sent to the district today by G. H. Dawson. The five crowns, the reward won by the doubling of the quota set, are not yet ready, but when they arrive here they will be sent on immediately, so that the big Honor Flag may be appropriately decorated.

Uncle Wiggily and the Frost Grapes

Once upon a time, as Uncle Wiggily was hopping along through the woods

he met the two little piggie boys, Curly and Floppy Twistytail.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily!" cried Floppy, who was called that name because one ear sort of flopped down in front of his nose. "Oh, Uncle Wiggily! Where are you going?"

"I'm going to the store to get a yeast cake for Nurse Jane. Fuzzy Wuzzy, my muskrat lady housekeeper," answered
Mr. Longears. "Where are you little piggie chaps going?"

"After grapes," answered Curly, whose tail was twisted around just like the curl on the forehead of the little girl who, when she was good was very, very good, but when she was bad she was horrid. "We are going after grapes," Uncle Wiggily. "Our mother told us where some were growing in the woods, and we are going to get them. She is going to make jelly of them, and we are going to have some on our corn bread and butter. We eat corn bread instead of wheat bread, to save the wheat for the soldiers," added Curly.

"That's right!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "But I still think you are wrong about getting grapes this time of year, as it is so late. So I'll go along to see that you make no mistakes. I'll have time afterward to get the yeast cake for Nurse Jane. But won't you piggie boys be late for school?"

"Oh, no," answered Curly. "We're going to pick the grapes and leave them on a path in the woods where our mother can find them. Then we're going to run on to school."

"Very good," said Uncle Wiggily.
"But if you leave the basket of grapes in the woods won't some one take them?"

"Oh, I guess not," answered Curly Twistytail.

So off through the woods hurried the little piggie boys and Uncle Wiggily, the bunny, and pretty soon they came to where a wild grape vine was all twisted around a tree.

"Here are the grapes!" cried Floppy,
jumping up and down.

"Pick a lot of them," grunted his brother.

"Well, there are grapes here, surely enough," said Uncle Wiggily. "I guess I'll just eat a few myself, as there are so many. Then I'll take some home to Nurse Jane. She, too, might like to make jelly."

"Oh, don't eat any of these grapes,
Uncle Wiggily!" cried Floppy. "Don't eat one until they are cooked!"

"All right, I won't," said the bunny uncle with a smile, though he thought it queer, as there were so many grapes.
But he thought, perhaps, Floppy's mother had told the piggie boys not to eat any themselves, and they didn't want to see any one else take any when they couldn't.

So Uncle Wiggily and the piggie boys filled the basket with grapes, and they were just finishing and the piggie boys were getting ready to go to school, after leaving the grapes on a path in the woods, when, all of a sudden, something happened.

Out from behind a tree jumped a big, bad, old fox, and when he saw Uncle Wiggily and Curly and Floppy
he barked:

"Oh, what a fine lot of souse I can bite off their ears! And I'll have some grape jelly to go with it, too, for they have picked a nice basket of grapes for me. I guess I'll eat the grapes first and bite souse off the ears of Uncle Wiggily and the piggie boys afterward."

"Oh, don't take those grapes!" cried
Uncle Wiggily. "They are for Mrs.
Twistytail, and—"

"I don't care who they are for," barked the fox like a bad dog. "I'm going to eat 'em!"

Then he took a big bite out of the basket of grapes; but all at once something else happened. The fox made a funny face, like a rubber ball when it's stepped on, and he twisted himself all up and cried:

"Oh, wow! How sour! Oh, lemons!
Oh, vinegar! Oh, my mouth is so puckered up and so little that I can't even bite the head of a pin!"

Then the bad fox ran to get a drink
of water, and Curly said:

"That's why we don't want you to eat any of the grapes, Uncle Wiggily.
They are very sour, being frost grapes,
and they won't be ripe until the frost
freezes them, which it hasn't done yet.
But they're all right for jelly if you put sugar in."

Then Uncle Wiggily was glad he hadn't eaten the sour frost grapes, which fooled the fox. And the next day Mrs. Twistytail made jelly and so did Nurse Jane. And, if the nutmeg grater doesn't try to play ball with the potato masher and scratch the window glass, I'll tell you next about Uncle
Wiggily and the pumpkin pie.

Dora—"Oh, I'm in such distress of mind and I want your advice. I am loved by three men and I don't know which to accept."
Clara—"Which one has the most money?"
Dora—"If I knew that do you suppose I'd waste precious time running around for advice?"

IN WOMAN'S DOMAIN

Social Personal
November's Birthstone
—Topaz. Its meaning—
Fidelity.

Capt. and Mrs. Heart, of Hamilton, have been spending a few days in Victoria before returning to Vancouver, where they will make a stay of some weeks.

Rev. D. H. Moore and Mrs. Moore, of Tokio, arrived in Victoria yesterday on the S. S. Montague. They were met on arrival by Ven. Archdeacon Sweet.

On Saturday evening at "Broad-bait," the minister's residence, Captain the Rev. Dr. Campbell celebrated the marriage of William H. McIlwaine and Miss Elsie Davidson, both of Victoria. After a trip around the Sound cities Mr. and Mrs. McIlwaine will make their home in this city.

R. B. Elliott, who has been in charge of the shipping department at Gordon's, Ltd., Yates Street, for the past eighteen months, severed his connection with that firm on Saturday on account of ill-health. Mr. Elliott intends to leave by the S. S. Niagara on December 1 for Honolulu, where he will spend the winter months recuperating, and expects to return to Victoria early in the New Year.

Members of the Next-of-Kin Association are asked by the officers to remember that as soon as the ban on public meetings is lifted there will be a sale of work in connection with the formal opening of the Returned Soldiers' club rooms, Army and Navy tea rooms. With this advance notice it is hoped that the ladies will prepare articles of needlework, etc., which will be suitable for the sale, as it is hoped to make the event a success from every standpoint.

Wendell B. Farris, a well-known barrister and a younger brother of Hon. J. W. DeB. Farris, was taken to the Vancouver General Hospital on Friday after being ill in the Hotel Vancouver for a week. Mr. Farris is suffering from acute neuritis and his speedy recovery is hoped for. He practiced for some years at Nelson and Revelstoke, and when his brother was made Attorney-General for the Province, came down to Vancouver to take his brother's place in the law firm of Farris & Emerson.

Old-timers will hear with regret of the death of Henry Budeley Smith, C.E., R.C.S.E., who passed away of heart failure in Vancouver last week.
The late Mr. Smith was a member of the former Victoria firm of Keefe and Smith, engineers, who were in business in this city from 1890 to 1896. Mr.
Smith has been associated with much of the survey and engineering work of the public works of the province and for some time was engaged in a topographic survey operation for the C.N.R.
and the G.N.R.

At the home of the bride's parents,
Mr. and Mrs. Edwin I. Homans, 811
Russell Street, Victoria, was held Saturday evening, Dr. H. N. Maclean, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, solemnized the marriage of Mary Homans and Bert Charles
A'Court, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E.
A'Court, of Bristol, England. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attended by her sister, Miss Jeannette L. Homans. Only immediate relatives of the young couple attended the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs.
A'Court will take up their residence at the Gorge.

A naval wedding of more than usual interest took place on board H. M. S.
Lancaster at Esquimalt on Saturday afternoon, when Adelaide Elsiebeth Freeman, daughter of Mrs. Freeman and the late William Freeman, of Edinburgh, and granddaughter of Major Irving, 19th Hussars, of Bar-whinlock, Stewart, Scotland, became the bride of Arthur Godfrey Palliser, Lieutenant-R. N. R., General Staff Officer H. M. S. Lancaster, son of William Palliser, of Rothbury, Yorkshire, England. Rev. A. P. Stricknell officiated at the ceremony, which was performed on the half-deck, the chapel being decorated for the auspicious occasion with white chrysanthemums and naval pennants. In the unavoidable absence through illness of W. C. Palliser, the bridegroom's brother, the bride was given away by Rear-Admiral P. H. Colomb, R. N. She looked charming in a richly embroidered gown of blue with picture hat of black nylon, and carried a sheaf of crimson carnations. Mrs. W. C. Palliser acted as matron-of-honour, wearing a pretty gown of turquoise blue with hat to match, and carrying a bouquet of pink roses. With her was three-year-old daughter Molly made a charming little bridesmaid, in a white organdie frock handmaiden with blue forget-me-nots and carrying a bou-quet of pink roses. The groom was supported by Capt. A. L. Brewster, R. N.
The ship's band played appropriate music during the ceremony. After the ceremony there was a reception, given by the captain and officers of the Lancaster in the ward-room, gayly decorated with flags and flowers. The occasion, Lieut. and Mrs. Palliser later left for Brentwood, where the honeymoon will be spent.

Appeal for More Home-Made Cakes for Convalescents; Many Donations Received.

The Willows Camp Chapter, I. O. D. E. has met with generous response to the appeal for delicacies for the convalescent patients at the Willows Camp, and as a result they have been able to send a supply of jams, jellies, home-made cakes and fruit twice weekly to the camp. It is hoped to continue these supplies during the prevalence of the epidemic, and the men have expressed their keen appreciation of the kindness of the Victoria soldiers who are so far from their homes. Especially welcomed are the home-made cakes. For the present the supply of home-made jam is sufficient, thanks to the generosity of housewives who have given of the products of their labors so unstintingly.

The supplies are sent out to the Willows Camp each Wednesday and Saturday morning, and it would materially assist in the work of delivery
if donations be left at the I. O. D. E.
Headquarters, 35 Arcade Buildings, on Tuesdays and Fridays, or not later than 10.30 a. m. on Wednesdays and

WANTS POSSESSION OF FAIRFIELD HOTEL

Owner of Building Alleges Tenant Conducted Premises in Disorderly Manner

Mr. Justice Gregory reserved judgment in the Supreme Court action of Lincham vs. Tompkins, adjourned from last week, on its conclusion this morning. Plaintiff is claiming for the cancellation of a lease made in favor of Tompkins of the property known as the Fairfield Hotel, on the alleged ground that defendant was responsible for the place being run as a disorderly house. J. A. Aikman appeared for the plaintiff, and H. A. MacLean, K. C., for the defendant.

Mr. Aikman alleged that the house was run in a perfectly respectable manner during the day time, and was inclined to blame the night clerk, since discharged, for what took place during the night, but he held the proprietor was responsible for the actions of his employee in this respect. A young woman inmate of the premises was called as a witness, and received a grilling at the hands of Mr. Aikman on cross-examination. Her evidence was so contradictory that His Lordship stated that he had no hesitation in disbelieving her, neither did he place much credence in the evidence of the detective who had taken a room in the house for the purpose of securing evidence which involved the actions of the young woman in question. At most, remarked His Lordship, only one or two irregularities had been proved, and he could not see that there was evidence of a disorderly house in the general sense of the term. A list of the forty odd permanent lodgers was reviewed whilst the present housekeeper was on the stand, and it was shown that they were all respectable people. Mr. Aikman pointed out that there were an additional twenty rooms in the house, which were used by transients, and it was the manner in which these rooms were let at night that Mr. Aikman alleged was at fault. Evidence was given by a member of the United States Immigration Department as to Tompkins' record.

The funeral of the late Goodward Thompson took place yesterday from the B. C. Funeral Chapel, where private service was held by the Rev. W. Stevenson. The casket was covered with many floral tributes of respect. Interment was made in Ross Bay Cemetery. The following acted as bearers: Messrs. J. Hall, K. Miller, A. Brynolfson, F. Fisher, E. K. Anderson and P. Christensen.

The remains of the late Tony Persetti, who died on Saturday, were forwarded to Seattle yesterday by the Sands Funeral Chapel at 3.45 o'clock, proceeding to St. Andrew's Cathedral, where Rev. Father Leternie conducted service at 9 o'clock. Pallbearers were Persetti, P. Julio, P. Ballantieri and J. Baratta.

Mrs. Jessie McNutt, wife of George McNutt, passed away yesterday at the family residence, 612 Head Street, Esquimalt, at the age of seventy-four years. She leaves to mourn her loss here husband, three sons, John Allen McNutt, of Vancouver; Lorne and Byron, of this city, and two daughters, Mrs. H. McElmer of Seattle and Mrs. Frank J. Herbster, of Plankin, Alaska. The funeral will be held from the B. C. Funeral Chapel, tomorrow at 3 p.m. Rev. W. S. Thompson officiating.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Emily Spencer, whose death occurred at Toronto on the 15th instant, took place on Saturday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel. There was an unusually large number of floral offerings testifying to the esteem in which the deceased was held. The pallbearers were A. J. Daniels, R. D. Stephens, T. Williams, A. W. Stewart, L. De Costa and R. McKean. Rev. Mr. Daugh Allen officiated. Interment was made at Ross Bay Cemetery.

The funeral of the late Gerald Dudley Flint took place on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the B. C. Funeral Chapel, where a private service was held by the Rev. Ven. Archdeacon Sweet, further service being held later at Ross Bay Cemetery, where the interment took place. Many friends attended and the casket was covered with floral tributes. The following acted as pallbearers: J. H. Saunders, J. G. Elliott, W. H. F. Richards, W. T. Williams, F. R. Loyall and D. C. Robertson.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Agnes Isabel Hyndman, whose death occurred at the Isolation Hospital last Wednesday, took place on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel. The casket was adorned with a profusion of beautiful flowers. The Rev. H. S. Osborne held a short service at the chapel and at the graveside. Interment was made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

The funeral of the late Henry Wilson Armstrong took place yesterday from the B. C. Funeral Chapel, where Rev. Dr. Clay conducted private service at 3 p.m. There was a large attendance at the graveside, many of the deceased's former associates in the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway having come down by special train from Alberni to pay their final token of respect. A particularly sad feature was that his young widow was unable to attend owing to being seriously ill with influenza at Alberni. The casket was hidden beneath a wealth of floral tributes.

The pallbearers were J. E. Hunter, L. E. Moxley, R. W. Walker, J. D. Fraser, J. A. Kyle and W. Bird.

TELKWA COAL FIELD HAS HEALTHY FUTURE

Premier Oliver Told That Hundred Million Tons in Sight

When the coal production in the province for the month of October was announced by the Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines, and quoted in these columns a few days ago, mention was made of a first shipment from a new mine at Telkwa. True, the first record did not exceed one hundred and fifty tons; nevertheless the sequel to that first shipment was related to Premier Oliver by Mr. Jefferson, a representative of the concern operating the mine, this morning.

He declares that drilling operations carried out so far over only a section of the company's holdings in that particular locality have disclosed the existence of at least forty million tons. It is claimed that when the whole of the property has been drilled the official in question anticipates at least one hundred million tons of a high grade bituminous coal in sight.

Mr. Oliver promised that the facts would be transmitted to the Minister of Mines and he assured Mr. Jefferson of the Government's and the particular department's interest in the development of coal fields in a section of the province now about to enter upon an era of extensive settlement.

The Department of Mines will take the usual procedure and investigate the claims placed before Mr. Oliver this morning.

HEAVY INVESTORS

Many Large Concerns Have Made Big Subscriptions to Loan.

"Greater Victoria's" Subscription to the Victory Loan has been swelled by many large investments made by individuals and companies, the response of the bigger industrial plants being particularly gratifying. This response has been made both by the companies direct and through the workers, who have been encouraged by the employers to go the limit in backing up the boys "over there".

The following subscriptions to the loan have been recently received, but they are by no means all the large investments: Swift Canadian Co., $5,000; Pithers & Leiser, $25,000; Pacific Marine Insurance Co., $7,000; Merrill & Ring Lumber Co., $5,000; and Balfour Guthrie & Co., $10,000.

TO MOVE-MAYOR'S OFFICE

Suggested That Exchange Should Be Made for City Clerk's Quarters.

It is intimated that the matter of dealing with the Mayor's request for certain changes in the location of his offices in the City Hall will be brought up for discussion at to-night's meeting of the City Council, but Mayor Todd will not be there to represent his views in the matter, as he is still indisposed and is confined to his home, though he expects to be back at his desk sometime during the week.

The Mayor suggested to the Council some time ago that his offices should be moved to the second floor of the City Hall building, but some of the aldermen were strongly opposed to this move. Several alternatives have been suggested, and the latest proposal is that Mayor Todd and his secretary should exchange their offices for those of the City Clerk, which occupies the corner of the building facing Douglas Street and Pandora Avenue.

A comparison of the offices shows that the whole of the City Clerk's office is about the size of that now occupied by the Mayor's secretary, which means that if the change goes into effect the Mayor's and secretary's quarters will be much more limited than the present offices.

Small Fire—A small fire, at 453 Superior Street last night, caused by a defective grate, gave the Fire Department a run. Little damage was done.

OTTAWA DISCUSSING QUESTION OF AMOUNT OF DEPENDENTS' PAY

Hon. C. S. Mewburn So Wires to Frank Giolma, M. P. P.-Elect

VICTORIA MEMBER IS KEEPING IN CONTACT

In a wire received this morning by Frank Giolma, member-elect for the City of Victoria in the Provincial House, the Hon. C. S. Mewburn, Minister of Militia and Defence, informed him that the question of an increase of allowance to the dependents of members of the Canadian Expeditionary Force is now actually under discussion at Ottawa. The Minister's reply came as the result of a reminder wired to Ottawa last night by Mr. Giolma and is also the sequel to a conversation between the Federal military head and the Provincial member during the former's recent visit to this city.

Active steps in this matter were first initiated by a public meeting held in the Belmont Block in September last when a committee was appointed to wait upon the Hon. Newton Howell, President of the Privy Council of Canada, on the occasion of his visit to Victoria. The Minister stated at that time that he was in accord with the necessity of an increase.

Supporting the wishes of the public meeting Mr. Giolma wrote to Sir Robert Borden, his communication harmonizing with the views of all present, pointing out the inadequacy of the existing scale of allowance to the direct dependents and to the soldiers' children. The Prime Minister replied in due time and informed the city member that the matter was in the hands of the Minister of Militia and Defence.

Tentative Increase Amounts.

When the Hon. C. S. Mewburn came to Victoria three weeks ago Mr. Giolma took the opportunity presented and was then advised by the Minister that the tentative proposal before the Federal Government was a ten-dollar increase to the adult dependent and a proportionate increase to the statutory amount paid to each of the fighting men's children.

He promised that on his return to Ottawa the question would be dealt with by the Cabinet. And noting General Mewburn's arrival in the National Capital, Victoria's soldier member wired him last night and the reply received this morning will be welcome news to soldiers' dependents in this city who now await an early announcement from Ottawa.

SPANISH INFLUENZA HITS FOREST BRANCH

Two Deaths This Morning; Important Committees Postpone Meetings

Spanish influenza is responsible for the postponement of the first general meeting of the British Columbia Grazing Commission, whose deliberations were scheduled to commence at the Parliament Buildings this morning. The event, which will now take place at a later date, was intended to mark an important step in the organization of range lands in British Columbia subsequent to an exhaustive report covering the general situation by Commissioner MacKenzie.

Forest protection was also due for consideration by the committee of officials under whose jurisdiction this branch of the Provincial Service comes; but the "flu" wields its unhealthy influence still.

Grazing Commissioner MacKenzie returned from Portland during the week-end accompanied by Mrs. MacKenzie, intending to make permanent residence in this city. On the appointment of the Commissioner it was necessary that he should make certain immediate investigations in various sections of the province and their completion last week now enables him to attend to his domestic arrangements.

Information reached the Forest Branch this morning of the death from Spanish influenza of R. R. Creelman, Forest Ranger for the Vancouver district. Within an hour of its receipt by the Department there came the news of the death of Assistant Ranger McCuaig, of Vancouver.

It had been the intention of utilizing the experience of the latter in connection with the aeroplane forest patrol service of the Province, since he had had a great deal of experience in the air both in the United States and overseas.

He returned from England several months ago and was originally chosen to fly the Government's air boat from Vancouver to this city.

INTER-CITY RACE HOTLY CONTESTED

A press report from the Terminal City this morning states that the City of Vancouver up to Saturday night had taken in $4,837,900 in its Victory Loan drive. This includes, of course, the $1,000,000 investment of the city. If the investment of the Provincial Government and that of the local municipalities should be included, Victoria is slightly ahead in the Loan race with her big neighbor across the gulf. The latter has to raise twice as much, within the city limits, as has "Greater Victoria," including Esquimalt, Oak Bay and Saanich.

DAILY AVERAGE OF "FLU" CASES IS LOW

Only Forty-One New Patients Reported; Situation in Saanich

Including a number of hold-overs from Saturday, a total of forty-one new cases of Spanish influenza were reported to Dr. A. G. Price, Medical Health Officer, as having developed in the city during Sunday and up to noon today, which means that the average for the past several days has been kept down to a fairly low figure.

With the exception of this more favorable aspect of the situation as regards Victoria, there is not much in the nature of new developments to report. The public is now looking forward hopefully to the time when the ban will be lifted, but inquiry at the Health Department as to when this may occur gives no promise of anything definite.

As regards the public schools, the time of their re-opening is still, of course, in abeyance. The regular meeting of the School Board is scheduled to take place on Wednesday, November 13, by which time no doubt an endeavor will be made to ascertain what definite steps can be taken with regard to re-opening. It has been suggested that the school hours be extended half an hour in order to catch up with the studies if the schools are opened in sufficient time before the Christmas vacation to make such a move advisable.

The first masks to be seen in the city were worn by two Japanese officers from the O. S. K. liner Canada Maru now repairing at Esquimalt, the officers appearing on the streets on Saturday night.

Soup Kitchen Opens.

In an endeavor to relieve the situation in Saanich, where the epidemic is reaching alarming proportions, especially in the Gorge district, the Tillamook Women's Institute to-morrow will open a soup kitchen under direction of Mrs. Darbyshire. Over fifty cases of influenza have already been reported in Saanich, including nine new cases to-day, and it has come to the notice of the women of the Institute that in a number of families the mother and most of the children are ill, with no one to care for them or prepare proper food. It is to meet such emergencies that the soup kitchen has been arranged, and nourishing broth and beef tea will be furnished at cost for the benefit of the sufferers.

The prevalence of the scourge is very severely, the small staff proving altogether inadequate to the demand, and an urgent appeal has gone out for assistance from volunteers. While the first call is for nurses or for women who have some knowledge of home nursing, there is also pressing need for women to help in families which are left, through the illness of the mother, with no one to look after the needs of the children. Offers of assistance should be made through Chief of Police Dryden at phone 1854, from whom volunteers may obtain information as to where their services are most urgently needed.

It has been particularly requested that all cases of sickness be reported to the health authorities as, in the scattered districts of Saanich, it is somewhat difficult to keep track of cases, and the authorities have found that in some quarters there is a tendency to refrain from reporting cases.

SECOND TIME A CASUALTY.

Badly gassed in August, 1917, and wounded in the thigh in October, 1918, is the record of Pte. John Joseph Bartlett, son of Mrs. Bartlett, of 2748 Prior Street, who this morning received word of his admittance to an English hospital on October 28. Leaving Victoria in May, 1916, with the 8th Battalion, the young soldier was sent to France from England with the 67th Battalion, with which unit he was serving when he received his first taste of German gas last August. After spending many weary months in hospital in England he recovered sufficiently to return to France in April of this year, being sent over with a reinforcement for the 25th. Later he was transferred to the Canadian Engineers in England, where he recovered sufficiently to return to France in April of this year, being sent over with a reinforcement for the 25th. ## QUARRYING THE COAL FROM MOUNTAIN FACE

How Collieries Are Operated in Indo-China; Accountant Here

Collieries, with face workings, are exceedingly rare, but a description of one of these open-face plants in Tonking was given to The Times representative on Friday by F. R. Uhler. Mr. Uhler is accountant for the Societe Francaise des Charbonnages du Tonking.

This company, as the name would suggest, is a French syndicate operating near the port of Hongkong, and the mines of the company are connected by rail with Hongkong Port. The coal is anthracite, and enjoys an extensive sale all over the Orient. This is particularly the case in Hongkong, where it is used for domestic purposes, and at the Saigon arsenal in Cochinchina. Sample shipments have been made to British Columbia on account of its particular adaptability for gas suction engines. The briquettes made by the company are used extensively for steamship fuel.

Mr. Uhler described the method of working, not unlike that of a stone quarry, stating that the hillside is attacked from a series of terraces. The labor is by Annamese, who form by a large percentage the bulk of the population of Indo-China. Labor is paid very small wages, ranging from about fifteen cents (Mexican) to $1.50 per day. "And we never have strikes," he added, "although we have several thousand men employed, and our output goes all over the Far East."

Went Out as Soldier.

Mr. Uhler, who went out originally many years ago as a soldier in the French army, saw much of the exciting times which occurred during the period that the French were extending their influence westward to the Mekong, and also controlling the Chinese pirates who swept the Gulf in their junks. "Now," he says, "these bands of the sea in addition to the Black Flag, as the mountain brigands were called, have both been brought into subjection, and the country is now peaceful, producing large quantities of rice for consumption and export. In addition to this staple product, other agricultural crops are raised, and mining activities are increasing in importance. The country is suffering from the difficulty which is common to all parts of the Orient of a lack of shipping. A company like that with which Mr. Uhler is connected, has suffered naturally from being unable to get its product away."

Annamese Loyal.

"I should like to say a word," added the speaker, "for the loyal manner in which the native Annamese have not only rallied to the French arms on the Western Front, but also at home. There is no doubt the Annamese are loyal with France in spite of the fact that the occupation of Indo-China during the last generation has been brought about by so many punitive expeditions, where fortune fluctuated as it always does in frontier warfare." Mr. Uhler left Victoria on Saturday en route East.

Evening Classes in Agriculture—Owing to the continued prevalence of the epidemic, it has been found impracticable to organize the proposed night classes in agriculture at Keating and the Victoria High School. Arrangements for them will therefore be postponed until further notice.

THIS WOMAN SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, One of Thousands of Such Cases.

Black River Falls, Wis.—"As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation, I cannot say enough in praise of it. I suffered from organic troubles and my side hurt me so I could hardly be up from my bed, and I was unable to do my housework. I had the best doctors in Eau Claire and they wanted me to have an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me so I did not need the operation, and I am telling all my friends about it."—Mrs. A. W. BINDER, Black River Falls, Wis.

It is just such experiences as that of Mrs. Binder that has made this famous root and herb remedy a household word from ocean to ocean. ## ARE PREPARING FOR GREATER PRODUCTION

Orders for Fall Ploughing and Fertilizing Indicate Intensive Gardening

Indications are that an intense interest will be taken in the greater production campaign in the city next summer, and already local vacant lot gardeners and residents having garden space at the back of their houses are getting things in preparation for planting their crops as early as possible in the spring. The desire to get as much produce out of whatever ground is available is developing to a large extent the scheme of intensive gardening.

In the last few days eleven applications have been filed with E. W. Bradley, Secretary of the Increased Production Committee, at the City Hall, for the fall ploughing of lots. The City is doing this work for a small fee.

The demand for fertilizer this year is very keen, and already applications for eighty-five cartloads of manure, street sweeping and 157 cartloads of stable manure have been applied for since the first order was taken on September 12. Sixty-one individuals have applied for fertilizer. Most of the orders are for one or two loads and the highest individual order this year is for twenty loads of stable manure.

Practice Criticized.

This point has aroused a good deal of criticism among some of the local gardeners, who allege that anyone operating on such a large scale as to necessitate the ordering of such large quantities of manure should procure it elsewhere, as they can afford to do. It is contended that the idea of the city supplying cheap manure is to help out the small operator who is turning non-productive lots into producers.

In March of last year one order was taken for as high as sixty cartloads, which was delivered to the party ordering it at eighty cents, or $48.00 for the whole lot. With orders already ahead this year for a total of 242 cartloads, applicants find that they have to wait some time before getting delivery, which tends to increase the objection to some people being allowed to get in early with large orders.

During the warm weather, from early in June till early in September the Board of Health does not permit the City to dispose of the manure within the city limits. The contract made with a Chinaman for hauling the manure away during this period this season called for the payment of $105 a month. To local gardeners the City sells the fertilizer at eighty cents a cartload, or $1.60 a wagonload.

Owners who wish to re-enter, under the statutory provision to that effect, on land under the Food Production Act, are reminded that it will be necessary for them to make application to the Council, which has authority, under the Act, to recover such land for personal occupation.

SWEDISH INSULT FOR SCOTTISH CANVASSER

Nationality of Scot Precipitates Adventure in Wilds
of Sooke

In the wilds of Sooke, according to an outraged Victory Loan canvasser, who hailed at no very distant date from Scotland, there dwells in a lonely shack a solitary Swedish prospector. The latter unconsciously insulted the bond salesman recently and sent him on his way with a very low opinion of Scandinavian intelligence. Another canvasser, however, had the same Swede as one of the most sensible and self-sacrificing of the many investors in the Loan. And under the circumstances both of these ideas are quite justifiable and natural.

The Scot and the Swede.

A picked team of canvassers under John Mowat scouted Sooke for dollars last week, achieving truly remarkable results. Among the canvassers was a Scotman, whose nationality was evident the moment he opened his mouth. While scouring the country for the sinews of war the canny Scot determined to miss no habitation from which might be forthcoming a single penny, approached a little shack framed in foliage and half hidden among the trees by the road side.

Sitting on the steps was a blonde giant, whose only care in the world appeared to be the smoking of a huge pipe, seemingly built in proportion with its owner.

"I selling the bogds," began the canvasser.

"Yah," replied the muscular man shifting his pipe to the other side of his mouth.

"Yah!" said the Swede.

"How many do ye want, mon?" the visitor continued in his usual Scottish accent.

"Yah," answered the Swede, with an air of dawning intelligence, "we have good weather three weeks now."

"I'm no talking of the weather, mon, d'ye no ken the bogds?" The Victory Bonds?" asked the canvasser, becoming exasperated and in his haste, inserting large numbers of superfluous r's.

"Yah, I am miner," the host hastened to explain.

"But what about the bogds?"

"Yah," remarked the Swede, pensively sucking the stem of his pipe.

"Mon," gasped the salesman overcome by this show of stupidity, "d'ye ken ther-r-r's a war-r-r?"

"Yah!"

"Ah, mon, do you know you're alive?" asked the canvasser as he withdrew.

Then He Went the Limit.

A short time after this incident occurred, another canvasser, whose accent, by the way, was decidedly not from the north of the Tweed, happened to pass through the same district and, seeing the big Swede smoking on the steps of his cabin, he, too, attempted to make a sale.

"How many bonds do you want?" he began.

"How many you got?" parried the Swede, who evidently understood perfectly.

"As many as you want," said the salesman, perceiving that it would be worse than useless to explain the details of the "Victory Loan."

"Gimme $437 worth," said the Swede, as he produced some greasy bills from an old sock which he took from under the mattress in his bunk.

"I'll put you down for $500 worth," said the canvasser.

"Yah," agreed the Swede.

As the application form was being filled out, the Swede confided to his visitor that another canvasser had tried to sell him bonds. He could not understand his first visitor, however, because he had talked French, and he never did like Frenchmen, anyway.

The Scottish canvasser has decided to confine his efforts to the Canadian residents of Victoria from henceforth.

Canada CAN and WILL

ON July 31, 1918, Canadians had on deposit in banks more than a billion five hundred million dollars—that was $160,000,000 more than was on deposit on the same date in 1917.

And, in the meantime, Canadians had invested $425,000,000 in the Victory Loan 1917. Besides that they had bought $60,000,000 worth of provincial and municipal bonds.

So the people of Canada during the past year have accumulated $485,000,000 in bonds and over $160,000,000 in cash more than they had on July 31, 1917. That represents concrete accumulated wealth.

Canada is to-day the richest country in the world, per capita.

Her war debt per capita is lower than that of any other fighting nation.

So Canada undoubtedly has the ability to oversubscribe the Victory Loan 1918.

And Canada must manfully and loyally support the Victory Loan 1918, because the national safety, the national honor and the prosperity of the country are at stake.

Canada's business prosperity is necessary to the maintenance of Canada's war efficiency.

Get ready to oversubscribe the Victory Loan.

PUBLISH XMAS BOOK

"The Gold Stripe" is Tribute to Men Who Have Suffered

Men who have lost a limb in the great world struggle, and have formed themselves into the "Amputation Club of British Columbia," with headquarters at Vancouver are bringing out a handsome Christmas book entitled "The Gold Stripe." The proceeds from the book, which is to be sold at the price of $1, will go to the men who have been maimed or wounded in the great war. Private Ray Jones, a veteran who has given his left leg in the service of his country, has been detailed to manage the business end of the book in Victoria with headquarters at present at 904 Hillside Avenue, which he expects to change later for a more central location.

The literary end of the book is being handled by "Felix Penn," of Vancouver, who expects to include twenty or thirty actual pictures taken in the front line, which have never before been published, pictures of those who have helped build up the fame of Canada's fighting men, a British Columbia Roll of Honor and a number of stories and articles appropriate to a book of this description.

The cover of the book contains the title, "The Gold Stripe," with the words underneath, "A tribute to the British Columbia men who have been crippled or wounded in the Great War." The picture of a wounded soldier is included with the names of the big battles in which the Canadians have taken part on either side. It is expected that the book will be ready for sale by December 10, and the veterans are hoping that it will be accepted as a suitable Christmas present, which can be made to serve the double purpose of also helping the men who have come back so badly injured fighting for the great cause they have upheld at such great sacrifice.

WANTS AMENDMENT TO

SOLDIER SETTLEMENT

Legislation Should Take Care of Widowed Mother, Says Veterans' Weekly

Vancouver Island's representative writing in the current issue of the British Columbia Veterans' Weekly points out a phase in both Provincial and Dominion Soldier Settlement legislation which he considers should have the early attention of the representative authorities. He refers to the hardship that will be occasioned if the widowed mother is not specifically provided for when she is denied, by death in action, the sustenance hitherto provided by the son. The reference is as follows:

"In both Federal and Provincial Soldier Settlement Acts the only dependent recognized is the widow of a sailor or soldier. In drawing up these acts, the fact that a widowed mother, in many cases, was solely supported by her son, appears to have been overlooked.

Specific Case. "A specific case has been brought to the attention of the writer, of a widowed mother who has to support an invalid daughter. During the son's life, the mother and sister were his constant care, and the fear of privation was unknown. The son possessed a small acreage which was left to the mother, but at present it is non-productive, because the necessary capital to make it revenue-producing is lacking. The mother receives a pension of $32 a month, and the daughter $8, but with the high cost of living, it is impossible to save a cent to place the land under cultivation. Had the lady lost her husband in the service, instead of a son, the $3,000 loan provided for in the Soldier Settlement Act of 1917, would have been at her disposal. Financially, her son stood in the same relationship as a husband, and, but for the war, he would, in the ordinary course of events, have enjoyed the comforts of a home without knowing the meaning of financial embarrassment.

Amendment Wanted. "In order to insure justice to the women who have suffered the loss of breadwinners, these acts should be amended to include persons who were solely dependent on men who gave their lives for their country. The mistake can be easily rectified, and it is to be hoped early steps will be taken to remedy a condition which must be very unsatisfactory to a large number of women.

"After further investigation, it has been discovered that the Provincial Returned Soldiers Commission has already taken this matter up, and the act will be amended by Order-in-Council in the near future, to read next of kin. "The Federal member is taking the matter up with the Dominion Government, and there is little doubt but that the authorities at Ottawa will pursue the same course of action."

To the Editor.—On behalf of the S. P. C. A. I am writing to call the attention of the public to a grievous state of affairs, brought about by the increase of expenses in the matter of food.

Several complaints have already come to me, and to the Inspector, of horses and cattle turned out in fields when there is little or no pasture and no water.

This must not be allowed to continue, otherwise the Society will be forced to prosecute the owners.

I would advise that the owners either give them to someone able to feed them, or have them destroyed.

This applies especially to horses.

WAR-WORKERS FOR VICTORY OR PASTIME

Many Fail to Realize Individual Responsibility for Winning of War

A new spirit has arisen lately, at least new for those on this side of the Atlantic. There is beginning to exist a sense of discrimination as to what is war work, real and proper. The questioning over here no doubt started where war has fixed its fangs into everyday living—"over there." From the trenches this keen discrimination between what is essential and helpful and what merely seems to be a filter through to the consciousness of those in the cities and hamlets where men and women toil for victory. Perhaps, because some have worked almost to the point of exhaustion, the less-wearing work of others is attracting attention. At any rate, however it has come about, there is arising a sharp distinction between war work that is for victory and war work that is merely a pastime.

Real Patriotism. Writing in The Illustrated London News, G. K. Chesterton sums up the difference between that patriotism which the general run of people have not yet fully sensed and the real article which sinks all differences about means and all personal quarrels in the great fight for the winning of the war. "One very simple way of stating the truth," he says, "is to say that there is nothing we can complain of in any of our fellow-citizens or any of our Allies, which victorious Prussia would not impose on the world with all the evil proper to itself and with seven devils worse than itself. There is no disease of ours that we can try to cure which they would not eagerly make incurable, if the brazen militarist and materialist once strikes us down he will stun us forever. We shall have lost the strength to reform and even the power to repent. Again he says: "The very existence of our nation is in deadly peril; the last hope of all nations really is pinned to a victory over Prussia."

Dabbles at War Work. English women are criticizing their sisters at home, who dabble at "war work"—just a little of this or that enough to give the appearance without causing the inconvenience of the real exertion. It is doubtful whether Canadian women have many "posers" among themselves but it is not at all doubtful that far too many have failed to devote themselves to winning the war with that abandon which would characterize them did they realize the truth and the possibility of "G. K.'s" remarks.

Individual Responsibility. It is all well enough to pin one's faith implicitly to the British navy—as many are doing, and thereby escaping strenuous exertion on their own part; it is a fine thing to feel perfectly certain that right must win. So it must, finally, but when one studies history one must realize at the very outset that "a thousand years is as a day" and several generations are none too many for the working-out of great events. Frederick the Great is responsible for most of the atrocities that are taking place to-day. When women realize that fact they will begin to realize the ever-present responsibility that rests on every one who is not Prussian to buckle on the armor of real war work. Far too many have not yet declared war!

"ORIGINAL" FLYER IS RETURNING TO CANADA

Lieutenant Farr Plans to Write History of Canadian Flying Corps

Lieut. Harry A. Farr, Canada's pioneer military aviator, one of the "originals" three airmen forming the nucleus of the Canadian Flying Corps, first contingent, and attached to headquarters staff on Salisbury Plains, has had to relinquish his commission with the Royal Air Force owing to ill-health contracted on active service.

Only One Left. Lieut. Farr was the only one of the "originals" left in the corps at the time of its disbanding in 1915, and later joined the R. C. F. C. He was stationed at Cadet Wing, Long Branch, Ontario, as equipment officer for over a year, after being at headquarters and stores depot for some time.

Lieut. Farr was engaged in designing building and flying aircraft on the Pacific coast before the outbreak of the war, and prior to transferring over to the Canadian Flying Corps joined the 50th Gordon Highlanders in August, 1914, proceeding with his regiment to Valcutt, Que. ## SAVED FOR FUNERAL

INVESTED IN LOAN

Old Man Parts With Slender Savings in Order to Keep Faith

Some day a local undertaker will be paid for his services in Victory Bonds. Canvassing for the Loan, Lieut. E. J. Clayton met an old man in the waterfront district, who had evidently seen something over seventy summers, and who had been roughly treated by wind and sun during his long life on the sea. The canvasser, of course, put the eternal question, "how many bonds?" In answer the old man had a tale to unfold. It appears that his son gave him enough each month to live on but during the past ten years he had gradually got together $100 by dint of much pinching and scraping. It was his intention that this sum should pay his burial expenses, and he had already picked out the plot at Ross Bay where he was to lie when he finally "cast off."

"I don't like to spend that money," he told the salesman, "because I want to be buried in ship shape fashion, with all the frills."

The canvasser explained that Victory Bonds would be easily negotiable, and that, in the meantime, they would be gathering in interest at the rate of five and a half per cent.

This was an idea entirely new to the old fellow, but he immediately saw the practicality of investing his cherished savings, perceiving that the interest might add a novel feature or two to the funeral.

"It will be rather original to be buried in Victory style," he remarked as he signed his name to the application blank. "I'm not going to lie in Flanders fields, but they can put over my grave, 'he kept faith.'"

A teacher was taking a class in the infants' Sunday school room and the scholars had to finish each sentence to show that they understood her.

"The idol had eyes," the teacher said, "but it couldn't."

"See," cried the children.

"It had ears, but it could not hear," was the answer.

"It had lips," she said, "but it couldn't speak." Once more replied the class. "It had a nose, but it couldn't wipe it," shouted the children, and the lesson had to stop.

OWNED SEALERS HERE

Late Capt. C. J. Kelley Was Well-Known in Local Sealing Circles.

Captain C. J. Kelley, well-known on the waterfront as one-time owner of several sealing vessels plying out of this port, passed to his last port from St. Joseph's Hospital yesterday at the age of 67 years. Like many of the seafaring men who have made Victoria their home, Capt. Kelley was a native of Nova Scotia and came to this Coast twenty-five years ago. He was the owner of the C. H. Tupper, the San Jose and the Florence M. Smith, and for many years was identified with the sealing industry.

His nephew, Captain W. H. Baker, who was equally well-known here, was for many years master of the C. H. Tupper, but is now in the Government service at Halifax, N.S.

The remains are resting at the Thomson Funeral Chapel, pending the receipt of instructions from relatives in the east.

ADELAIDE STRANDING NOW BEING PROBED

Capt. R. A. Hunter and Second Officer H. A. Ormiston First Witnesses Called

MASTER SAYS SHIP MADE FASTER TIME

Before Capt. John D. Macpherson, Wreck Commissioner, and Capt. D. S. Jones-Evans and George F. Cross, nautical assessors, formal inquiry into the stranding of the Canadian Pacific coastwise steamer Princess Adelaide on Georgina Point October 13 last, was opened at 10.30 o'clock this morning at the Post Office building. Capt. R. A. Hunter, master of the Princess Adelaide, and Second Officer H. A. Ormiston were represented by counsel in the person of F. A. McDiarmid, and H. A. Beckwith appeared on behalf of the owners of the power schooner Iskut, the Clayoquot Canning Company, having put in a claim for services rendered by the Iskut at the time of the stranding.

Captain's Evidence.
Capt. Robert Alexander Hunter testified that he had been in the employ of the C. P. R. fourteen years of which he had been master, and for the past eight years master of the Princess Adelaide.

The Princess Adelaide, he said, left Vancouver at 10.34 a.m. on October 13. It being clear weather at the time, it was a bit foggy as the vessel passed through the Strait of Juan de Fuca, and also when she rounded Point Grey. At 11.55 a.m. the Sandheads buoy was rounded and the lights clearly visible. He relieved Second Officer Ormiston at about 11.45 a.m. and was in the wheelhouse when the Adelaide passed the Sandheads buoy. He took the time off the buoy and at 12.15 p.m. put the vessel on a course S.E. by S. 1/2 S., the speed being 15 1/2 knots.

At 1.15 o'clock he relieved him again, and satisfied that the vessel was on her right course, he went to his room and washed his hands preparatory to going down to the saloon to eat. He was looking aft he could see the lights of the Iskut, but could not see far ahead.

Was at Lunch.
It was his intention to get his lunch and return to the bridge before the ship arrived at Gossip Reef. He was sitting in the dining saloon eating his lunch when he heard a whistle, which he thought was the signal for Gossip Reef. He hurriedly left his lunch and mounted the bridge when he distinctly heard the blast of the George Point horn. On reaching the wheelhouse the order was given hard a port and full astern. The order was given by the officer of the watch.

The vessel had a tremendous sidemovement and went ashore sideways. At the actual time of the impact he was in the wheelhouse. Immediately after the vessel struck soundings were taken and he saw no immediate necessity for the transfer of passengers.

Capt. Jones-Evans here asked how long the engines were going astern? Capt. Hunter replied that he stopped the engines immediately he reached the wheelhouse. In reply to Capt. Cross, witness said that he gave no instructions to the second officer when he left the bridge to go to lunch. "Is that the usual thing?" asked Capt. Cross. "Don't you think under the circumstances it would have been advisable to have had lunch sent up to you when the weather was so thick that you could not see land?" In my opinion you were cutting things very fine.

In answer to Capt. Macpherson, witness stated that the ship's whistle was not blowing from the time she left Point Grey until off Gossip Reef. Witness had made 2,999 trips over the route.

Capt. Macpherson—"When you went down to lunch surely you knew when you would get to Gossip Reef?"

"Yes."

"Was it not your duty to be on the bridge?"

Witness pointed out there were no specific orders to that effect even when entering Active Pass.

"Do you think you should have been on the bridge?"

"Yes."

Replying to another question from Capt. Macpherson, witness said he had every confidence in Second Officer Ormiston. Capt. Hunter promptly denied the suggestion put forward that the accident might have been due to carelessness on his part. Had there been fog he would never have left the bridge.

Answers Question.

In reply to another question put by the Wreck Commissioner, witness stated he gave no orders to the second officer when he went down to lunch as he saw no necessity for it in general orders applying to thick weather. He didn't tell the officer of the watch that he was going below, as it was a regular thing and he did not deem it necessary. When she struck the Adelaide would be about three ship's lengths off the Georgina Point lighthouse, with the light abaft her beam. Capt. Macpherson remarked it was apparent that the ship struck about ten minutes after high water. "You had a flood tide all the way," said Capt. Macpherson. "Did you know you had the tide against you?"

"Yes."

"Did you take that into consideration?"

"Yes." Capt. Hunter said there was a light southwest wind. There was nothing to impeding the speed of the ship, he replied in answer to Capt. Macpherson.

Capt. Jones-Evans asked witness what time it usually took to travel between the Sandheads and Gossip Reef. The Captain replied that it usually took from forty-five to forty-seven minutes. "You should have been off Gossip Reef at 12.45 p.m.," "Yes."

"Then you must have made more speed than you figured on." "Yes."

At this point comparisons were made with regard to the speed of the Adelaide on this particular trip and previous trips. It was pretty conclusively proved by the Commissioners that at best the ship was not more than a minute faster than on the previous trip.

Replying to Capt. Macpherson witness stated that this was the first accident that had happened to the Adelaide during the eight years she had been under his command.

The telegrams of the ways "stand by" when approaching Active Pass.

Second Officer Ormiston.

Second Officer H. A. Ormiston, the officer of the watch at the time the Adelaide piled up, corroborated Capt. Hunter's testimony regarding the conditions prevailing when the vessel left Vancouver. He was responsible for the lookout kept, there being no lookout man on duty unless at night or in thick weather. He relieved Capt. Hunter at 12.15 p.m. when the Captain gave him the course off the Sandheads buoy, S. E. by S. 1/2 S. The Captain then went out of the chart room door. He later saw him go down the forward companion ladder and presumed that he had gone to lunch. Capt. Hunter, he said, was usually back on the bridge by the time the ship was off Gossip Reef. Witness neither saw nor heard the bell buoy at Gossip Reef.

At 12.45 p.m. he saw the quarter-master at the wheel to haul her in half a point. He then gave the order S. 1/2 E., but thinking this was not enough to clear her he put her S. 1/2 W. He then saw the land and put her full speed astern.

At this point the Court adjourned. The inquiry was resumed at 2 o'clock.

LOCALLY-BUILT SHIP IS REPORTED SOLD

Commonwealth Government
Mentioned as Purchaser of Schooner Laurel Whalen

According to news brought by the Canadian-Australasian liner Makita the Commonwealth Government has been mentioned as the probable purchaser of the five-masted auxiliary powered wooden schooner Laurel Whalen, one of the six vessels of this type built at Victoria last year by the Cameron-Genoa Mills Shipbuilders, Ltd., to the order of the Canada West Coast Navigation Co., Ltd.

The Laurel Whalen recently arrived at an Australian port after a rough passage from this coast, and the crew of the vessel were paid off following the arrival of the ship in southern waters. The Whalen is 240.5 ft. long, 42.8 ft. beam and 18.9 ft. deep, and has a lumber-carrying capacity of 1,500,000 feet. Of the half dozen ships of this class built in Victoria, the schooners Esquimalt and Beatrice Castle (now known as the Atsuga) were several months ago sold to French interests and have been delivered to their new owners. The Margaret Hancy, the fastest of the class, is to be launched from the Point Ellice yard since her maiden voyage to Bonifay, has been operating under charter between Indian ports and the Persian Gulf. She has made a number of trips up the Tigris River with supplies for the Mesopotamian forces.

The two remaining vessels, the Malahat and Jean Steedman, are still operating in the Australian trade, the latter having recently arrived at Vancouver with a cargo of Australian wheat.

The Malahat is on passage from Victoria and Genoa Bay with a full cargo of British Columbia lumber. She is now owned by the Canada Steamship Lines.

Lieut. H. R. Christie, M.C., formerly second in charge of Forest Protection in British Columbia and engaged in the operation of the Forest Branch of the Department of Lands, from early in 1912 until he joined the Canadian Engineers three years ago, was a caller at the Parliament Buildings this morning, his first visit since his departure overseas.

Lieut. Christie is in the city on his way to Siberia and for the moment he will be posted with the force at the Willows.

Lieut. Christie is a graduate of the Toronto Forestry School and bears mute evidence of wounds received in action. Happily his hurts were of not so serious a nature as to interfere with his desire to remain in the great adventure in a different field of battle.

SIR ROBERT EXPRESSES SYMPATHY TO RELATIVES OF SOPHIA'S VICTIMS

The following telegraphic message was received by Premier Oliver this morning from Sir Robert Borden:

"Will you please convey to the sorrowing relatives of British Columbians lost on the ill-fated Sophia the warm sympathy of myself and colleagues in their tragic bereavement."

A suitable acknowledgment was immediately dispatched to Sir Robert, and his wishes complied with.

JUNEAU OVERWHELMED BY SOPHIA DISASTER

Grief Stricken Inhabitants
Have Done Everything for Victims Possible

Seattle, Nov. 4.—The people of Juneau are working heroically to rescue the bodies of the Princess Sophia victims and are meeting the situation in a big-hearted way characteristic of the North, according to officers and passengers of the steamer Spokane, which arrived here on Sunday morning from Southeastern Alaska ports.

"Business is practically at a standstill in Juneau," says H. Holzer, purser of the Spokane. "The residents stand about in awed groups talking about the tragedy. Rumors flow thick and fast. Sorrow was changed into rejoicing dozens of times a day when it was found that relatives or old-time friends thought to get passage at the victims failed to have been among Skagway and were thus alive and well."

"An indelible spirit of depression hovered over the town. Every available boat in the harbor went to the scene of the wreck, and every few hours some of them returned, bringing back the remains of Alaskan numbers of scores of acquaintances among the residents of the town."

"He says that most of the bodies were weighted down with crude oil, indicating that the ill-fated ship's oil tanks burst when she made her final plunge. Juneau people believe that the presence of the oil in the water weighted down and smothered the struggling victims, and accounts for the fact that there were no survivors."

Bodies to Come South.

Vancouver, Nov. 2.—H. W. Brodie, General Passenger agent of the C.P.R., stated today that no unidentified bodies will be buried in the North, as instructions have been given the agent at Juneau to forward all such by the steamer Princess Alice to this city or Victoria, wherever the boat makes the first landing.

The unclaimed dead will be cared for by the former Yukonera now resident in Vancouver. All the assistance that will be needed was promised by a large number of old Yukoners. It is planned to bury those victims of the disaster whose bodies are not claimed by relatives or friends in one plot, with a large monument to commemorate the tragedy. Information by wireless stated that the steamer Spokane, southbound for Seattle, has no bodies aboard from the Sophia.

Search Continues.
Juneau, Nov. 2.—No bodies have been recovered in the past two days. The search by small craft still continues. Additional identifications of bodies announced to-day are Henry Tariff, Mrs. Murray S. Eds, George Sangster, Charles Norberg, Mrs. Anna Lenez, Mrs. J. P. Anderson, Ruth McDonald, Joy Vilquin, Mrs. A. D. Pinsky, Mrs. O. E. Tackstrom, Loretta Beaton, Mrs. Walter Harper, Eunice McDonald, Margery Tackstrom, Harry Bridges, William McClellan, H. Russell, W. P. Smith, Jr., storekeeper on the Princess Sophia; waiter on the Sophia, name unknown.

CALLS FOR REVISION OF COASTWISE LAWS

Joint Action by Canada and United States is Strongly Urged

In the interests of humanity and with the recent Princess Sophia, with the loss of 325 lives, as an incentive, Kenneth C. Kerr, in the November issue of the Railway and Marine News, just off the press, calls upon the United States and Canadian Governments to form a joint commission for the immediate remedying of conditions in Alaskan waters.

The writer points out the defects in the existing legislation, which he thinks are gross negligence, and sets forth for the immediate consideration of the joint commission a revision of the coastwise laws, lights and aids to navigation, elimination or marking of dangerous reefs, a continuance of coast and geodetic surveys and a more careful charting of unknown waters.

Expressly calling attention to the existing coastwise navigation laws of the two Governments, Editor Kerr recites:

"Then the rules governing salvage operations are positively awful. Under existing laws, both of Canada and the United States, an American vessel cannot save a wreck in British Columbia waters, nor can a Canadian vessel do salvage work in American waters. Often times it is extremely difficult to draw the line between what would be considered by either government as work of humanity and what would infringe on salvage laws. The masters of foreign ships now place their owners in jeopardy every time they extend aid to a ship in distress on Canadian or American coasts. Laws should be changed, and at once, or another and even more horrible disaster will be recorded."

It might be pointed out, in connection with the latter statement, that in recent years, Canadian salvage companies have had to secure special permission from the United States Government before a Canadian salvage vessel could be dispatched to American waters to render assistance to a vessel in distress—Marine Editor.

INBOUND KAMO MARU HAS 2,000 TONS OF CARGO FOR VICTORIA

With 47 passengers and 1,900 tons of freight for Victoria, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner, Kamo Maru, is expected to arrive here on Tuesday next from Kobe and Yokohama. She has 157 passengers and about 6,000 tons of cargo for Seattle.

VERY LOW GLASS RECORDED ON VOYAGE OF LINER MONTEAGLE

Barometer Was Down to 28.20
When C. P. R. Steamship Was Few Days Out From Japan

During the trans-Pacific voyage of the Montegale an unusually low barometer was recorded. When a few days out from Yokohama the glass was down to 28.20, and with the mercury tumbling in such extraordinary fashion the ship's officers naturally saw to it that everything was securely lashed down and made tight aboard ship. The old Montegale quivered a bit as she was overtaken by a snorting southwester and for a time the chief steward had big ideas regarding his next requisition covering brittle pantry equipment. The Montegale, however, rode out the hurricane without subjecting her passengers to any great degree of discomfort.

Capt. Frank L. Davison says, as far as he can recall, it was the lowest glass that has ever been recorded during a trans-Pacific voyage.

The entire passage was stormy, but as they were mostly following gales, the C. P. O. S. liner Montegale managed to negotiate the four thousand odd miles from Yokohama in fourteen days.

Broke Steering Gear.
The steam steering gear also was temporarily out of commission when in mid-ocean, but repairs were quickly effected. During these operations Chief Officer E. P. Green slipped on the water-soaked deck, and slightly scratched his back. In her saloon accommodation the Montegale carried one hundred passengers. Her steerage space was crowded with 1150 Chinese, all being former residents of this continent and returning after spending a holiday in China.

The Montegale was about 750 miles off the coast when she picked up the S. O. S. from the ill-fated Canadian Government steamer Galiano. The news of the loss of the C. P. R. steamer Princess Sophia with all hands was picked up by wireless while the vessel was at sea.

This is the Montegale's seventy-fifth homeward voyage and it will be her last passenger voyage for some time. The line reached William Head late on Saturday night and was passed by Dr. Rundle Nelson early on Sunday. After disembarking a large number of saloon passengers at the Outer Docks, the steamship proceeded to Vancouver.

FOUNDATION VESSELS WILL CARRY CARGOES OF WHEAT TO FRANCE

Announcement is made that six of the wooden auxiliary schooners built for the French Government at the Tacoma and Portland yards of the Foundation Company will load cargoes of flour for France at North Pacific ports. The charters have been arranged by Thorndyke & Trenholme, agents for the vessels. The ships fixed to carry flour to France on their initial voyages across the Atlantic are the General Barlatier, Nancy, General Serret, Republique, Fraternite and Adjutant Dorme.

FIRST FIXTURE IN INTERMEDIATE RUGBY

Crowd Excited Over Well-Fought Game Between Naval College and V. I. A. A.

The first rugby fixture in the intermediate league went to the Royal Naval College on Saturday by defeat of the V. I. A. A. by a score of nine points to six. In spite of the weather, the crowd was out in good numbers, and although the Naval College looked like swamping the V. I. A. A. team at the beginning of the game, it afterwards became so well fought and exciting that the crowd left their positions in the grandstand and crowded the edge of the field. So exciting was the game at some stages that the enthusiasm led the crowd past the line and the game had to be stopped while they were moved back. Mitchell scored the first try of the game for the Naval College within five minutes after the whistle blew, but Pentelow failed with the attempt to add the other two points. Three more points were added by the Naval College in another five minutes, and Roy got by the line to add the ninth point for the College, the try again being uncoversed. Riley with a good drop kick registered the first score for the V. I. A. A. men, and Matson made the only try. The lineup was as follows:

Royal Naval College—Full-back, Pentelow; three-quarters, Cundill, Roy, Ryall and Pickard; halves, De Wolf and Richardson; forwards, Kingsley, Lea, Mitchell, Budden, Woolcombe, Desbarats, Crowell and Myers.

V. I. A. A.—Full-back, Lineham; three-quarters, Lipsky, Muir, Grubb and Matson; halves, Lennie and Streeter; forwards, Bale, Kennedy, Campbell, Cruickshanks, Harvey, Bainbridge, Riley and Webster.

Have You Bought Victory Bonds—If Not, Why Not?

BOND BUYER ANXIOUS ABOUT AMATEUR STATUS

One of the bond buyers putting through his fighting dollars at the veterans dugout this afternoon was anxious about his amateur standing. W. J. Lynn, was formerly a soldier himself, and also played soccer football in Victoria for the Garrison. When he spoke to the bond salesman at the Veterans Headquarters he first wanted an assurance before he put his signature on the paper that his amateur record would remain unassailed. "You have got to give me an assurance," he declared, "that I am not jeopardizing myself as an amateur sportsman by purchasing bonds off professional fighters." He received the assurance, and his bonds went through.

FRAGMENTS WIN.

The Fragments from France registered a win by four goals to one in their friendly game against the Imperial Munitions Board at Oak Bay on Saturday. A hard fought first half resulted in a goal being scored by both sides. Davies from the centre forward position registered the first goal of the game while Townsend, taking a penalty equalized for the returned men. In the second half Bowers registered two more goals, and Harper netted the fourth.

WANT MEEHAN-BURNS BOUT HELD IN CITY

As a Feature of Sports Week of Winter Festival in December

The Victoria Winter Season committee have had to curtail the celebrations planned for the first week in December on account of the epidemic, but will go ahead with the sports programme.

Sergeant Tommy Burns has been secured on the committee promoting boxing, and if the ex-champion heavy-weight and Willie Meehan eventually agree, the local fight fans have great hopes that they will settle their dispute in the ring at Victoria. It is also planned to get a kid mit artist from across the border to meet one of Billy Davies' clever dustweight fighters. Both of these anticipated bouts would prove a big drawing card. The California "flat boy" as he is known throughout the country, does a lot of talking about what he intends doing, and cannot be relied upon to live up to all his fight talk, but if the ex-heavy-weight champ should get him to don the mits here, the city would get a fight worth going to see, and incidentally that advertising that the committee wants.

The Davies' twins have already created a lot of advertising for Victoria and incidentally raised a lot of money for the Red Cross Society, and if the clever one were to get an opponent from across the border, an international dustweight championship, since the title has been established on the other side of the border, would also be a big feature.

May Go to Vancouver.

The much talked of Burns-Meehan bout is spoken of as a practical certainty for Vancouver, and the local men may be a trifle optimistic in hoping to get the ringmen to settle their disputes in this city. The Mainland papers have been talking of the bout for some time and The Vancouver Sun says:

Justice to Willie Meehan, with whom negotiations are pending for a six-round bout with Sgt. Tommy Burns as a benefit for regimental funds, it may be stated that he did not ask $4,000 to come here, nor anywhere near that figure. But—and this admission is made with reluctance, since Meehan is a member of the United States Navy—considerable reasonable, especially in view of the fact that Burns is offering his services absolutely gratis, and is willing to go to a whole lot of trouble to provide an attraction which would result in raising a substantial sum for a worthy cause, besides offering a return bout in California.

An afternoon contemporary—innocently, no doubt—stated yesterday that $4,000 was Willie's figure, and as certain California papers have said the same thing, a certain percentage of the populace will gain an erroneous impression that the roly-poly sailor is more grasping than he really is.

Of the San Francisco papers, The Bulletin knows the exact figures, and of the Vancouver papers, The Sun is in possession of the same information. This state of affairs comes about through the negotiations for the match having been conducted through the medium of the sporting editors of these two papers.

THROW BOUQUETS AT VICTORIA SWIMMERS

The announcement that Victoria has been again awarded the outdoor swimming championships of the P. N. A. for 1913 occasions no surprise, says The Vancouver Province. The officials of the governing body made the award because of the very capable manner in which Victorians handled the championships during the past season. The island folks deserve credit for staging the most successful swimming gala in the history of the P. N. A., or for that matter, any other organization in the country to-day.

ANSWERS REMARKS OF MAINLAND SPORTSMEN

Vancouver Has Had More Than Share of B. G. A. A. U. Meetings

In answer to the declarations of the Mainland officials stating that they will not attend the meeting of the governing body of the British Columbia Amateur Athletic Union which was set to be held in Victoria on November 2, the following letter has been sent by W. H. Spalding, secretary of the governing body, to Dan McKenzie, secretary of the local board of the B. G. A. A. U. in Vancouver, and needs no comment:

Your letter of October 28, has been brought before the President of the B. G. A. A. U., and he directs me to say that in future he would rather you communicate with him or myself, before giving your views to the press, as a newspaper controversy does not assist in promoting good feeling between one city and another, and is the very worst thing possible for amateur sport.

Taking your first point you say "it has been the custom in the past to hold the annual meeting alternately in Vancouver, Victoria and Westminster." I have carefully gone through the minute book of the B. G. A. A. U., as far back as September 27, 1913, and meetings since that time have been held in the following places:

Vancouver, September 27, 1913. Annual meeting.
Victoria, October 28, 1913. Adjourned annual meeting.
Vancouver, January 19, 1914. Quarterly meeting.
Vancouver, May 15, 1914. Quarterly meeting.
Victoria, July 14, 1914. Quarterly meeting.
Victoria, October 9, 1914. Annual meeting.
Vancouver, October 15, 1914. Adjourned annual meeting.
Vancouver, January 9, 1915. Quarterly meeting.
Victoria, June 1, 1915. Quarterly meeting.
Vancouver, October 30, 1915. Annual meeting.
Vancouver, October 14, 1916. Annual meeting.
Vancouver, January 27, 1917. Adjourned annual meeting.
Vancouver, March 13, 1917. Special meeting.
New Westminster, May 7, 1917. Special meeting.

In the above list you will notice that Victoria had five meetings, Vancouver nine and New Westminster one.

Your next point is that you have not received notice from the provincial secretary asking for a return of the clubs, under your jurisdiction, in good standing. I think it is only fair to ask that if you were so familiar with the wording of this resolution why have I not received a return from you? Surely the notification from the provincial secretary is the least important part of it.

CAMP LEWIS PLAYERS AFTER COAST TITLE

Camp Lewis, Nov. 4.—The Camp Lewis football team, which is making a strong bid for the championship of the Pacific coast this season, may not win the Western title, but it will be the busiest eleven in the country. Capt. Cook, athletic officer for the division, believes in plenty of competition and has scheduled as many as two contests in one week on one occasion.

The players themselves are proving gluttons for work, but has assured the captain that they'll play every day in the week if he says the word.

Six games will remain on the 1913 schedule for the team and according to present plans the last game will not be played until December 7. It may be that the team will play up until Christmas or New Year's day if the right kind of events can be secured to form the opposition.

SPORTS WEEK PLANNED IN SPITE OF EPIDEMIC

While the winter season week has been unavoidably postponed on account of Spanish influenza epidemic no attempts will be made to provide sports and entertainments during the coming season. The Football Association has arranged a particularly fine programme including finals for the International Service Cup and the Inter-City Championship, and is it hoped that the military authorities will stage a boxing tournament to be participated in by not only the Military and Naval Forces stationed at Victoria and Esquimalt, but also those at Vancouver, Camp Lewis and Bremerton Navy Yard on the American side.

The boxing arrangements are in the hands of Lieut. C. R. Macdonell, of the Provost Marshal's staff, Belmont House. Rugby and golf attractions are also promised.

The Willows Skating Rink is to be re-opened early in December, assuring hockey matches, and also plenty of healthy recreation to the ordinary skating enthusiasts.

If sufficient time is given C. Denham, of the Royal Victoria Theatre, intends to stage particularly good shows ensuring an evening's amusement to round off each day of sport.

CALLS FOR ENTRIES FOR SERVICE TROPHY

Final for H. H. Brown Cup Will Probably Take Place in January

J. M. Rowley, who is acting as Secretary of the Soccer Football week, is calling for entries for the H. H. Brown Service Cup competition, and although a date has not yet been definitely set, expects the competition will be decided during the first week in January, which is the probable date for the sports week to have been held in connection with the winter season opening, but on account of the influenza epidemic this festival has been called off, although the sportsmen will endeavor to arrange a number of attractive sporting fixtures.

SEATTLE SOCCER FANS LOOK FOR BIG SEASON

Seattle, Nov. 4.—Soccer fans in Seattle are due for some real football when the "flu" ban is lifted. According to reports from the various cities the teams are daily practicing and once Seattle and Tacoma are declared open the plague the season will get under way.

The circuit will again be known as the Northwest League, although several new clubs will be represented. Bonado and Black Diamond in previous years have turned out fast and scrappy elevens. They have amalgamated into one club. The Todd Construction team of Tacoma will be the favorite, although the team is practically the old construction eleven which played under that name when the big shipbuilding concern was located here.

HAVE A SCHEME TO HAVE AMUSEMENT PARK

On account of the influenza epidemic, the Victoria Winter Season Committee organized for the festival week has become non-existent, but will be re-formed. Arrangements have been made, however, to promote sports along the lines of football, both association and rugby, boxing and golf this winter.

It is also the present intention of the winter season to take the matter of providing sports and entertainments up again early in the spring in conjunction with the City Council, the Board of Trade and the Victoria and Island Development Association, so as to give ample time properly to organize the project for next year.

AUTUMN MEET AT PIMLICO

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 4.—The interest of race followers has been transferred from Laurel to Pimlico, where the autumn meeting of the Maryland Jockey club opens to-morrow, under conditions that promise a season of successful sport. Five rich stakes are slated for decision during the eleven days of the meeting. No purse will have an added money value of less than $1,000, and seven races will be decided each day.

HENDRICKS GOING OVER.

New York, Nov. 3.—John C. Hendricks, former manager of the St. Louis Cardinals and before that of the Indianapolis team of the American Association, will leave for New York Wednesday prepared to sail for France to engage in overseas athletic activities as a Knight of Columbus secretary. Jack, as he is more familiarly known, has been awaiting passports ever since the close of the baseball season on Labor day.

GOLF ASSOCIATION OFFICERS.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—As indorsement of their efforts in raising more than $300,000 for the Red Cross, officers of the Western Golf Association, headed by President Charles B. Thompson, of Chicago, were nominated for re-election. It has been announced by Assistant Secretary Crafts W. Higgins. The election will be held January 18 at the annual meeting of the Association.

SPORTS WERE OFF.

The programme of sports arranged at the Willows Camp by Captain Lou Scholes, including football and baseball games had to be cancelled owing to the weather. This is the second time since Captain Scholes endeavored to get things started at the big training camp that the rain has spoiled the programme.

SAILORS V. SOLDIERS.

While the league fixtures have been cancelled, and the men of one of H. M. cruisers who were to take part in the league soccer competition are unable to fulfill their fixtures, the fragments are trying to arrange a game. The sailors are keen on soccer, and will meet the returned men in a friendly game on Saturday. Other friendlies for the sailors are also expected during their stay here.

PROS AND AMATEURS

To the Sporting Editor of The Times.
Sir,—Having noticed a controversy taking up valuable space in your paper on "Pros and Amateurs," I would like to say I have been in the game since 1904. I was always under the impression that any man who played in an enclosure where a charge was made was a professional, no matter whether he received a share or not. There is only one instance to my knowledge where an amateur can play in such a game, which is when all receipts are handed over to some charity and a man who handles or promotes professional sport must not handle or promote any amateur sport, otherwise the entrants become pros. I would be glad, sir, if you could inform me when such rules were changed. I understand that the ban was lifted only to men in the service—to civilians the old rules still remain.

A FRAGMENT.

SAM LANGFORD WILL FIGHT.

San Francisco, Nov. 3.—Sam Langford, the Boston Tar Baby, offers himself for a benefit fight if his services are wanted. The proposal came through Frank Carter, who says he has just received another wire from Sam in Boston and that he's dead anxious to come to the Coast.

TROOP TO SHOOT.

Frank Troeh, of Vancouver, Wash., manager of one of the country's greatest trapshooters, has been selected by the national sports committee of New York, working in conjunction with the united war work drive, as one of the first five shooters in the country to appear at a trapshooting carnival at the Polo Grounds, New York, Wednesday, November 13, the proceeds of the big carnival to go to the united war work fund.

W. J. CLUBB

Late of Empress Hotel Cigar Stand, Now at Corner View and Broad Sts. Branches at Winnipeg, Regina and Victoria.

WATCH OUR WINDOWS. C. W. DIXON, Manager Victoria Branch.

"The Canadian Siberian Expeditionary Force," said Bernard Falk, on the deck of the Montevideo yesterday morning, "will be warmly welcomed in Siberia as the Czech-Slavs are hard pressed in places."

Mr. Falk is a special representative of the London Daily Mail, and has been recalled on special service. He is just arrived from Vladivostok and brings a first-hand story of conditions in Siberia. He hastened to say, however, that the whole Russian situation had been changed by the news of Friday, intimating that the Allied fleets would make the passage of the Dardanelles into the Black Sea.

Mr. Falk went on to point out that the opening of the back door of Russia would inevitably enable the Allies to relieve the pressure on the Czech-Slav factions, whose detachments were on the field. He mentioned that relief to the sore-pressed battalions from the western shores of the Pacific has been long-awaited by these brave men.

"All is quiet," he said, "now in Vladivostok, the administration being practically a military one, and order is being restored out of chaos."

Mr. Falk said that in his position he could not talk freely of certain interesting phases of the situation, but he would like to reiterate what has so often been said—that Siberia's trade is Canada's opportunity—and that he hopes the business men of this country will awake to the opportunity which is afforded of trading with the eastern section at least of Siberia. Whatever the chances of war may bring forth in regard to a military intimacy with Siberia, there can be no doubt that a commercial intercourse will be beneficial to both countries, he declared.

LOST IN THE WOODS

Bond Salesman Floundered About Underbrush With Little Result.

When Kenneth Ferguson, in charge of the selling of Victory Bonds in Victoria, came home on Saturday evening he was plastered with mud, and not in the most amiable frame of mind. For which there was a very good reason.

Mr. Ferguson had determined to invade virgin territory, and to get a number of some dollars which his salesman had so far left untouched. He therefore set out alone, and, with much exertion, climbed to the summit of Gonzales Hill. And there he got hopelessly lost. For some time—according to his own version for some hours—he stumbled about the damp underbrush and explored numerous wet trails through the woods. After slipping down a miniature precipice, and landing in a nice cozy bed of mud, he reached the entrance to the grounds of a large residence. Entering, he asked the mistress of the house if she cared to purchase bonds. She did not, and Mr. Ferguson retired hoping for better things at the next house.

Then, for about half an hour, he once more floundered about the woods, wearing out his clothes and his temper, until after walking about a mile he arrived at another door. He knocked, and he was answered by the same lady who had refused his offers before.

"Do you think," she demanded, "that you can get any more money at the back door than you can at the front?" After that the canvasser decided to leave that district for someone else, and he set out to find new worlds to conquer.

ECONOMY
The idea of saving in funeral expenses is very often ignored until after the obsequies are over. Then it is too late. We are always ready to advise with those employing our services as to the most economical way of holding the funeral without sacrifice of dignity or pride. Under no circumstances do we try to increase expenses merely to increase our profit.

ALLIES NOW CONTROL ARE HOLDING MEN TURKISH RAILWAYS OF MILITARY AGE

Lines Placed at Disposal of Victors Under the Armistice

London, Nov. 4.—An additional clause in the terms of the armistice granted by the Allied powers to Turkey, word of which has just been received here, says: "Allied control officers are to be placed on all the railways, including such portions of the Trans-Caucasian railways as are now under Turkish control. These must be placed at the free and complete disposal of the Allied authorities, due consideration to be given to the needs of the population."

BRITISH CASUALTIES DURING LAST MONTH WERE 158,825 MEN

London, Nov. 4.—The British casualties reported during the month of October totaled 158,825 officers and men. Of these 28,287 were killed or died of wounds. The casualties were divided as follows: Killed or died of wounds—Officers, 2,049; men, 28,237. Wounded or missing—Officers, 6,885; men, 124,463.

HOW TO AVOID PNEUMONIA WHEN CONValescing FROM THE FLU

A tablespoonful of Kennedy's Tonic Port four times daily will give weakened, run-down people the very support and strength needed. It is the most efficient general tonic and builder of body tissues you can possibly use during the convalescing period.

JUGO-SLAVS, WHO SEIZED IT, ARE Ready Now to Hand It Over

Paris, Nov. 4.—(British Wireless Press).—It was not the Austrian Government which abandoned its fleet to the Jugo-Slavs, but the Jugo-Slavs, rising in revolt, who took possession of the Austro-Hungarian warships, according to an authoritative statement here. As soon as this was done the Jugo-Slav leaders sent the following wireless message to President Wilson: "We have seized the whole Austro-Hungarian fleet, except the Viribus Unitis, recently sunk by Italians, and are ready to hand over these vessels to the United States Government or representatives of the Allied navies. The Viribus Unitis was torpedoed while still flying the Austrian flag."

TOOK MANY BEFORE HOSTILITIES ENDED

British on Italian Front Gathered in Bag of Prisoners

London, Nov. 4.—More than 20,000 prisoners and several hundred guns taken by the 48th British Division operating on the Asiago plateau toward the Trentino, it was announced in a statement issued by the War Office to-day.

AS DEFEAT INCREASES BERLIN IS CUTTING DOWN FRIGHTFULNESS

Washington, Nov. 4.—The German Government to-day notified the United States that since October 1 its air forces had been under orders to make bomb attacks solely against important hostile military objects within the immediate operations of war on the assumption that the Allied air forces were to receive similar instructions.

British Airmen Make Successful Raid on Point East of Metz

London, Nov. 4.—Railways and aeroplane hangars in the region east of Metz were attacked to-day by the machines of the British Independent Air Force, says an official statement issued this afternoon, which says: "To-day we carried out heavy attacks on the railways in and around Saarburg. One squadron attacked Buhl with good results. Hits were obtained on the hangars there. All our machines returned safely."

STENAY GAP CLOSED BY ALLIED FORCES

Americans West of Meuse Near Thionville-Mezieres-Hirson Railway

With the French Army in France, Nov. 4.—The operation which the Franco-American forces are engaged in carrying out north of the Argonne Forest now has resulted in definitely closing the Stenay gap, one of the main lines of retreat for the German southern armies.

London, Nov. 4.—American troops west of the Meuse now are within ten miles of the Thionville-Montmedy-Mezieres-Hirson railway, the main German communication line. The breaking of this line would mean that the German armies in the north would have to depend on the Liege-Namur-Charleroi line, with the German armies south of the Ardennes would have to depend on receiving their supplies through L'Emburg.

With the French Army in France, Nov. 4.—2.30 p. m.—The Sambre-Oise Canal, which a prisoner said the German troops had been ordered to defend at all costs, was crossed by troops of General Debeney's army, who attacked at 5.30 o'clock.

This operation was developing and progressing favorably at the last accounts.

With the American Army on the Sedan Front, Nov. 4.—General Pershing's forces continued to take their toll of prisoners to-day in the wake of the retreating Germans. The number captured early to-day was well above 5,000.

Almost forty villages were occupied by the Americans in the territory reconquered from the Germans. There were indications at the beginning of the pursuit this morning that the Germans would be unable to make an effective stand, at least to-day.

GREAT VICTORY MAKES ALL ITALY REJOICE

Occupation of Trieste Started the People Celebrating Last Night

Rome, Nov. 4.—There were bonfires last night on hills throughout Italy, spreading far and wide the news of the occupation of Trieste. Church bells were rung and guns were fired. All the windows in Rome regardless of the police orders concerning restricted lighting were ablaze with light. The crowds in the streets eagerly sought newspapers fresh from the presses.

By a strange coincidence the Italians entered Trieste on the feast day of San Justo, the patron saint of the redeemed city, which all the population, including the Jews, used to celebrate until the Austrian rule came, as a patriotic demonstration of their Italian nationality.

Rome, Nov. 4.—The occupation of Trent, one of Austria's chief fortified towns in the Tyrol, was announced last night by the War Office.

Italian forces had landed at Trieste and the Italian tri-color was flying from the castle and from the tower of San Giustino, the report added. Italian cavalry had entered Udine.

HUNGARIANS WILL VOTE MONTH HENCE

Will Decide Whether Country Shall Be Republic or Monarchy

London, Nov. 4.—The population of Hungary a month hence will vote to decide on the question of a monarchy or a republic, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen to-day. In the balloting the women will have the same electoral rights as the men.

Amsterdam, Nov. 4.—Archduke Joseph of Austria and his son, Archduke Joseph Franz, according to a dispatch from Budapest, have taken an oath to "submit unconditionally to the orders of the National Council of Hungary and to support it in all its decrees."

Berne, Nov. 3.—Via London, Nov. 4.—Count Karolyi, after obtaining a release from his oath of fealty to the Emperor, proclaimed a republic in Hungary, according to a dispatch to The Bund from Vienna, quoting the Vienna newspaper Die Zeit.

Told Committee.

Basel, Nov. 3.—Via London, Nov. 4.—During a meeting of the executive committee of the Hungarian National Council at Budapest yesterday (Saturday), Count Karolyi announced that King Charles had freed the Government from its oath of fealty.

VETERANS' DUGOUT MADE RECORD ON SATURDAY'S SALES

Pass the Half-Million Mark of Bonds Sold by Returned Men

FIGHTING MACKENZIE HAS A VERY BUSY DAY

Saturday was a record day for sales at the Veterans' Dugout at Fort Street and Government Street. Applications were coming in after Headquarters had been closed and Sergeant King had a big bundle of applications which he was too late to turn into be recorded in Saturday figures. During the day he estimates that $134,000 worth of bonds were sold, taking the total past the half million mark to $449,000. Added to this total over $12,000 was recorded up to one o'clock to-day, including $3,000 brought in by Corporal Miller and Pte. Rowlands from the men employed at Yarrow's plant, making $661,000.

Neither the fact that their demonstration of a bombing raid had to be cancelled, together with the speeches by returned men and the band concerts interfered with the rush of business at the Veterans' Victory Bond Dugout on Fort Street and Government Street on Saturday. Sergeant King in charge of the workers, reports the busiest day since the opening of the scene was first thrown open to the people of the city, and in addition to a heavy morning's and afternoon's work from 5 o'clock until 9 o'clock in the evening, the guides were leading a continuous stream of visitors through the front-line, the tunnel and the dugout to the "snipers' office" above, where the bond salesman add the finishing touch, and register the visitor's contribution of fighting dollars.

Police on the Scene.

Several policemen were necessary to keep the crowds moving that gathered in front of the trenches while the veterans from time to time mounted the parapet and requested the crowd to keep moving along. "You see in no man's land that side of the sandbags," the "barkers" informed them, "and it isn't safe. Walk right into the front line trench, and through to the dugout and see for yourself why you should buy Victory Bonds." Although the veterans cancelled their own firework exhibition, every youngster in town that had a fire-cracker to let off seemed to choose the corner of Fort Street and Government Streets, and there was no lack of noise and smoke and smell of powder. The Boosters Band in hobbo dress paraded the street, and also made the tour of inspection. The trench gramophone was worked overtime.

"Fighting Mac's Tale."

Pte. Mackenzie, or "Fighting Mac" as he is known to the crowd by virtue of his blue shoulder straps, three and a half years' front line fighting, two wound stripes, and his array of war ribbons, told the soldier's tale to the visitors in the dugout until his voice was hoarse. In the light of a trench candle and a brazier in the surroundings similar to those he has only recently left, he graphically told of conditions in France and the way the men lived, and ended with an argument for Victory Bonds. "The men won't ask you for anything," he says, "you owe it to them. They live under conditions that these would be 'cushy' compared with, and do it uncomplainingly because they think the people of Canada are behind them. Prove it! Never mind politics, or if you approve of the Government. This is a war fund. It is to back up the men in the line, to smash the Hun for the suffering he has caused, and to bring the boys home again."

Their Home Town.

"The boys in the line are always thinking and boosting the home town," is one of his appeals. "The last Victory Loan," he says, "you would hear them arguing 'my town will beat yours or any of them,' and you can't send a better Christmas present to the boys over there from Victoria than the news that his home town has over-subscribed for the Victory Loan. Can you imagine how he will feel when he is enduring what he is if the news has to be sent that his own people are not behind them and not prepared to make the small sacrifice they are asked to?"

All Underground.

The realism of the subterranean passages, trenches and dugout proved too much for some of the visitors. Entering the dimly lighted tunnel leading to the dugout below they shuddered and turned back. "It is too dark and I don't like the look of it," they told the guides. "Madam," the guides promptly replied, "you will never realize in any other way why you should buy Victory Bonds to the limit. If this was France we couldn't stand here talking and hesitating. In fact you might wait hours before you could get this far. Fritz has the entrances to dugouts like this spotted to an inch, and you get in and out of them lively without worrying what it is like below. As for it being dark, we couldn't afford to use one candle in France where we are using six to-night. Through this tunnel to the dugout you are walking on boards, and it is comparatively dry. In France you are walking on earth that the mud the men have brought in has made greasy and slippery. You would be loaded with a hundred pounds or more of ammunition, bombs, barbed wire or ration, in addition to your rifle, gas mask, overcoat and other equipment. It would be darker than this, and there would be wire or pipe which had broke loose from the sides to trip over. You would come by an entrance through which you could hardly crawl with your load, plastered with mud from the trenches through which you had passed, may be wet through or possibly at this time the mud just beginning to freeze. You step on partially frozen mud which seems as if it will bear your weight and find it doesn't. Then you sink in it to your knees and the icy water runs through your putties into your boots, but you keep on staggering with your load to a tunnel something like this. When you crawl into a tunnel by means of a dark steep incline you move along quickly, not stop to think about it. There are men behind you who can't get in, until you have moved ahead, and Fritz is either shelling the entrance or will be soon. It is a tough tussle getting in with the load, but you have to think of your comrades like we want you to think of them when you go through to the dugout and keep moving a head until every body is in to the safety afforded below. It takes but a few minutes to go through this tunnel. Some of them in France are miles long and wet through and coated with mud from above you come into the foul atmosphere below and the weight of your load, your exertions, and the air you are breathing causes the perspiration to run like you have taken a bath. If you are lucky you get a rest in the dugout, but if you are short-handed, which is more likely you deposit your load at the dump and either go back for another or climb out at the other entrance of the tunnel and do a spell in the front line or fix the wire in No Man's land. That is not the beginning of your day's work. You may have been twenty-four hours or more continuously on duty when you are detailed for a little stunt like that."

Sleeping Quarters.

To the thousands of visitors that the crippled guides must have shown around the tunnel and dugout during Saturday they explained the bunks which impressed many of the people. "Do the men sleep in places like this," they were repeatedly asked, and the guides referring to a hole in the side of the tunnel on the floor on which were a couple of two by four's with barrel staves nailed across could inform the visitors that it was a typical bed in France except that it was more inviting than most of them. "Wouldn't he have a mattress," one lady asked, "he would be lucky to have the barrel staves to sleep on, and there would be no bed about it that would be quarters for three or four men." Another visitor inquired if they were the horses' quarters. The chicken wire bunks put up in any corner they could be crowded into are described by the veterans as the soldiers' bed of luxury. "Here," the guides tell the people, "as they point to a dummy in wire bunk just below the exit to the tunnel and in the main dugout," we have a wounded man whom we have just brought in from the front line. We have done all we can for him, but Fritz is shelling heavily, and the snipers have all the entrances marked. We have got to wait until dark before we can move him back to the clearing station to be sent to hospital.

Army Behind the Men.

The approval of the military authorities of the efforts of the returned veterans in their efforts for the Victory Loan is shown by an announcement in recent Military orders, which reads as follows: "Authority is granted for any soldiers' returned after overseas service, while participating in or employed on work in connection with the Victory Loan Campaign now in progress to wear uniform. This authority is only to cover men actually working or speaking on instructions from R. C. Provincial Executive Committee of the Victory Loan, 1918."

Cadet Arthur E. Johnson Killed in Accident; Other Casualties

The sad news has been received by Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Johnson, of Bank Street, that their son, Cadet Arthur E. Johnson, has been killed in an aeroplane accident while training for the Royal Air Force at Ramsgate, England. Cadet Johnson who was only 23 years of age was at one time employed by the Daily Times. He had seen considerable service in France with the 11th Field Ambulance, having left Victoria in June, 1916, and entered the war zone in time to take part in the big engagements on the Somme, front. Leaving France to obtain a commission in the Royal Air Force, he was acting as observer at the time he met with the accident which caused his death. A brother, Private Alfred James Johnson, is at present at Shorncliffe, England, suffering from the effects of gas.

Veteran's Death.

Pte. Edward Biddle, one of the veterans of the present war, and a first contingent man, has passed away from pneumonia on his way to Siberia, and has been buried at sea according to the information received by his wife, who lives at 827 Colquhoun Street.

He was living in Prince Rupert before the war, and came down to Victoria from there to go overseas with the 54th Battalion. He was wounded in April, 1915, in the very first fighting in which the Canadians took part, and returned to Canada in September the same year, last year receiving his discharge after leaving hospital. He worked in the shipyards for a time before joining the Siberian force.

Wounded in Arm.

Private Arthur Ward, son of J. W. Ward, baggage agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and Mrs. Ward, 3319 Douglas Street, has been wounded in the hand and arm, and is now in hospital in France, according to the information received by Mrs. Ward, his wife, who resides with her child in Vancouver. Private Ward left Victoria with the Canadian Army Medical Corps, and afterwards transferred to the 4th Battalion, with which he was fighting at the time he received his injuries. He had been in France since December of last year.

Other Casualties.

While serving with the cyclist corps Private John London, who enlisted in Victoria in the early stages of the war, is reported to have been wounded. He had a long record of service up to the time he received his injuries. The information has been received by his father, James London, at Wellington.

Pte. Alfred M. F. Lohr, son of Mrs. A. Lohr, of Colwood and Prospect Lake, was killed in action on October 12. Pte. Lohr, who was born in South America, came to Victoria in 1906. He was only seventeen years of age when he enlisted, and left with the 62nd Battalion. An older brother, Gar. B. H. Lohr, is still serving in France.

"There's a Reason"

GOVERNMENT LIQUOR WILL BE SUBJECTED TO PRICE REVISION

Old Stocks of Rum, Whiskey and Brandy Gone; New Supply Costly

SUBSTITUTE "RYE" FOR SCOTCH IS SUGGESTION

Every available immediate stock of rum in Canada has been virtually commandeered by Prohibition Commissioner Findlay during the last fourteen days, and so great has been the demand by way of medical prescription that the Government's stock has become well nigh exhausted. It has been possible to secure one or two small parcels of the commodity at Montreal and Winnipeg which will reach the coast during the next week or ten days; but to all intents and purposes the rum supply of Canada is virtually no more.

Mr. Findlay has placed an order with Jamaica for shipment to this country at the earliest possible moment, so that while some inconvenience may exist during the present Spanish influenza epidemic future stocks will be taken care of.

Rye Just as Good.

Reference has already been made by Commissioner Findlay to the shortage of imported Scotch whisky in Canada while his appeal to the medical profession to prescribe it in minimum quantities, and in any case not beyond the immediate requirements of the patient in relieving the situation for the time being.

He points out, however, that there is a large supply of Canadian rye whisky in the country at the present time which can be retailed to patients requiring it at about one-half of the price asked for imported Scotch. Moreover, the medicinal properties of rye are high by reputation, suggesting that a pause on the prescription of Scotch for the time being would not only conserve the supply and help to stabilize the price, but also still secure for the patient the same curative process.

The recent, tremendous demand for Scotch has very naturally lessened an already small supply and from information gleaned by Mr. Findlay in an exhaustive scouring of the Canadian markets during the last few days, the stocks have now reached that stage when the wholesaler with a few cases on hand is ready for a "killing" at a figure that will soon make the prescription of Scotch as an anti-flu remedy a costly one and practically prohibitive.

Brandy Going Up.

By reason of judicious purchases of brandy some time ago it has been possible for the Government vendors to retail it to the patient on prescription at a figure that works out cheaper than the present wholesale prices in Montreal. The influenza rush, however, has practically exhausted the earlier consignments and the new supplies will be considerably more costly to the Government and very naturally subject to price revision on retail to patients.

The general situation as far as the stock in the possession of the Government is concerned will now be subject to a considerable amount of adjustment by reason of the fact that the existing schedule of prices to the privileged professions and to patients on prescription, was fixed upon wholesale prices of liquor bought in large quantities at exceptionally advantageous figures soon after the prohibitory law went into effect.

New Scale of Prices.

With these stocks now practically exhausted an all-round readjustment in practically every commodity at very considerably enhanced prices makes it necessary for Commissioner Findlay to submit at once a revised scale of charges to the Attorney-General for the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council in accordance with the provisions of the British Columbia Prohibition Act.

A New Blood-Food Has Been Discovered That Works Wonders

SAID TO PUT NEW LIFE INTO PEOPLE THAT ARE RUN DOWN.

For years doctors have been searching for a combination that would enable them to inject into thin blood the elements it lacked. This can now be done, and any weak-blooded person can quickly be made strong and well.

Already a small army of ailing people has proved the merit of taking after each meal with a sip or two of water, two chocolate-coated Ferrozone Tablets. This is easily done, and even one week's use of this wonderful blood-food will prove how nourishing and strengthening and flesh-building the treatment is.

Just think if it—Ferrozone uplifts the entire nervous system, renews the blood, makes it rich and—gives the sort of aid that's needed in throwing off weakness and languor.

Tens of thousands enjoy the advantage of renewed health through Ferrozone—if you'll only use it. You'll surely grow strong too; its beneficial action is noticed even in a week. You see it goes right to work, removes the cause of the trouble and then quickly makes a cure.

For those who sleep poorly and have nervous apprehensions, Ferrozone is a boon; it is a specialist in such cases.

Where there is paleness, poor appetite and languor, Ferrozone makes the patient feel like new in a few days.

In tiredness, nerve exhaustion, spring fever and debility, the power of Ferrozone is known from coast to coast and universally used with grand results.

Let Ferrozone build you up, let it win you back to robust health—it will do so quickly if you give it the chance. Sold by all dealers, 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50. Remember the name Ferrozone.

TSING TAU'S FUTURE MAY BE PEACE THORN

Japanese Are Expected to Hold Former Teuton Concession,
Says Missionary

The announcement from San Francisco last week, in an interview by the new Chinese Consul-General to the United States, that China would insist in the peace negotiations upon the return of Tsing Tau by Japan aroused considerable interest among the passengers on the mail steamer Montague, which berthed here yesterday.

Among the missionaries on board was Rev. F. Jones, an Anglican clergyman from the vicinity of Tsinan-Fu, the capital of Shantung, the province to which Tsing Tau belongs. Consequently it is the centre of Japanese influence to-day, just as it was formerly of German power.

Mr. Jones says the impression is that Japan will not go out without a struggle, having developed the ceded territory very energetically in the last three years. Mr. Jones remarks that German propaganda is still carried on in Shantung and other coast provinces, and that there is probably no country in the world not actively engaged in the great war, where the Germans enjoy more freedom and go about with such blatant self-assertion as they do in China to-day. He does not think it possible that any other great country would allow such conditions as prevail to-day in China in this regard.

Christianity in China.

Mr. Jones, speaking of Christian work in China, said there was one factor which ought not to be lost sight of in passing judgment on missionary work in China. That is that the influence medical, educational and evangelistic is not to be judged by converts, but by the leavening influence it is having on the whole country. Five or six thousand missionaries in China may seem a drop in the bucket among the millions; but their influence is stupendous in moulding the destiny of the Celestial Republic.

Mr. Jones passed through on his way to France, where he will engage in Y. M. C. A. work.

LUTHERAN MERGER

IS DUE NEXT WEEK

Charitable Enterprises Valued at Twelve Millions Are Affected by Negotiations

Care of the needy and afflicted will be a keynote in the merger-convention of the three older Lutheran bodies to be held in New York, November 12 to 17. The Lutheran Church has always been active in charitable enterprises. The Reformation, of which Martin Luther was a central figure, laid down the principles that are still dominant in the relief of the needy.

A great amount of charitable activity is taken up with industrial relief. The Lutheran Church in America has charitable institutions of different kinds representing a money value of $12,000,000, and demanding an annual upkeep of over a million. 325,000 persons are taken care of in these institutions each year.

Many Orphans' Homes.

There are sixty-six orphan-homes, which are caring for the children who have been bereaved of parents and otherwise would be without proper care. One of the best known is the Warburg, near Mt. Vernon, N.Y., almost four hundred children are constantly under proper direction and training. The care of orphan children is one that naturally appeals most strongly to the mind and heart of all people. It is natural, therefore, that much should be done for them.

Another important line of charitable activity is the care of the aged and infirm persons who have been left alone in the world and are unable to take care of themselves. Forty-six homes for old people take care of 1,600 inmates. The institutions are situated in every part of the country.

There are seven homes for defectives maintained in the country. Fifty-one hospitals are situated in important Lutheran centres providing for the sick.

A special type of organization has been developed in recent years called home-finding and children's friend societies. The organizations aim to place children in the homes of Christian people. There are thirteen organizations of this kind representing property valued at $1,000,000 and an annual upkeep expense of nearly $50,000. Finally, there are thirteen inner mission and city mission societies with an annual expenditure of $60,000. Their work is largely taken up with mission work in the slums of the great cities providing not only spiritual care but also taking care of the physical needs and comforts of the poor people in the large American cities.

To Restore Independence.

The aim of the charitable work of the Lutheran Church is not essentially institutional. It does not aim to place needy people into institutions and keep them there, but it aims through Christian charity and helpfulness to back up the needy that they again become independent and useful members of society. The so-called inner mission work of the Lutheran Church has developed to a very great extent in the past decades. It especially is charged with enlisting active co-operation on the part of the Lutheran people to be personally interested and helpful to those that are ready. It is impossible to estimate the amount of work that is being done. It is safe to say, however, that there are few agencies in American life as thoroughly alive to the need of helping people that are down and out and as active and self-sacrificing as the organization of the Inner Missions within the Lutheran Church.

The charitable work of the Lutheran Church is going to receive a great impetus through the merging of the older Lutheran bodies. While not all the different charitable activities of the Lutheran Church will be combined under one board, there will be a much greater unity of thought and action and for that reason greater ability to meet the situation.
